On Moscow-Peking Rift

Kremlin Sounds Another Call For Global Red Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — A new call came from the Kremlin today for a world Communist conference on the Moscow-Peking rift, but there was no indication Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's talks with the new Soviet leaders have brought the two camps closer together.

A Moscow dispatch to L'Unita, the Italian Communist newspaper, said Chou and his Peking delegation, which came to Moscow for last week's celebration of the 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, apparently were extending their visit for further talks.

An editorial today in Pravda, the Soviet party paper, said a world Communist conference "is clearly overdue."

Red China had vigorously opposed such a conference when former Premier Nikita Khrushchev called it to muster support against the Chinese. The Kremlin's new leaders, party secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, are expected to put the emphasis at such a meeting on unity and not schism.

Brezhnev raised a toast to Communist unity Monday at a farewell dinner for foreign delegations leaving after the week-end celebrations. There was no word whether Chou responded.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said Brezhnev proposed his toast "to the unity of the fraternal community of Socialist states and Communists of all the world, to the unity of all the forces of freedom and progress on the earth, to the victories of the cause of socialism, of great Marxist-Leninist ideas."

Tass said a "warm and friendly atmosphere" prevailed at the dinner.

Chou and the Soviet leaders are assumed to be bargaining over Chinese terms for an indefinite suspension of the verbal hostilities between Peking and Moscow. The Red Chinese have indicated in recent statements that they expect the Kremlin to renounce most of Khrushchev's policies since 1956 — including destalinization and peaceful coexistence with the West.

Hunts For Savings

Johnson Studies Military Funds

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is reviewing U.S. military commitments, looking for possible savings to help finance other administration programs.

To help in the hunt, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk meet with Johnson today at his ranch home for a top-level conference.

The President wants them to pinpoint ways to economize — particularly in the defense budget — so funds can be freed for other legislative proposals Johnson will send to Congress in January.

These proposals — including broadscale efforts to aid education and promote prosperity — are still in the drafting stage.

McNamara flew to the LBJ Ranch Monday for an intensive review of the Pentagon budget. He is expected to hold a news conference this afternoon at Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin.

Johnson is making a fine-print study of defense spending because he wants to keep his next budget under 100 billion.

The defense budget is the prime target for penny-pinching because it accounts for more than half of all government spending — $49.9 billion this year out of an estimated $97.2 billion.

Aides said Johnson and McNamara discussed ways to "keep the highest degree of national security within the lowest possible cost."

They pictured Johnson as feeling that without strict supervision the new budget could reach $103 billion to $105 billion. They said this would be the "normal projection" for year-to-year budget increases that reflect an expanding population and existing commitments.

It is regarded as most unlikely that Johnson will send Congress a budget that large. He is expected to try to keep it under $100 billion, although White House sources say he has yet to decide on a target figure.

Last year, Johnson talked of submitting a budget of $103 billion or more. In the end he came up with the recently revised total of $97.2 billion, which was lower than the budget prepared a year earlier by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Beside seeing McNamara and Rusk on the budget, the President is expected to meet at the ranch Wednesday with other Cabinet members.

Basic Problem Remains

Minor Remedies Planned In Shadyside Complaints

Shadyside Ave. residents were promised remedies for two minor problems in a conference with city officials late Monday afternoon, but their basic complaint that their street is too narrow and needs a sidewalk apparently must be worked out in co-operation with county commissioners and Liverpool Township trustees.

Fifty residents of the busy hillside street conferred for nearly two hours yesterday with Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Councilmen Floyd Murray, Donald Hancock, James Cunningham and William Davis.

Long-standing complaints that the street should be widened and resurfaced and sidewalks should be provided for school children broke into action yesterday morning when the residents put up a "picket line" at Shadyside and W. 8th St., halting traffic. However, the pickets dispersed shortly after they were promised a meeting with city officials.

In the meeting yesterday, Vodrey said the residents were promised that the city will clear away an accumulation of slag and other debris alongside the curb on the east side of the street. The mound has the effect of narrowing the section of pavement available for traffic, he explained.

In addition, the director promised that the berm alongside the west side of the street will be built up level with the pavement. The berm drops off sharply at points, presenting a hazard that prompts motorists to keep well away from the edge, he explained.

But the basic complaint that the pavement should be widened and sidewalks should be provided apparently must await joint action by municipal officials, township trustees and commissioners, the director explained. The problem is compounded by the fact the road begins inside the city limits and then extends into the township. Commissioners' jurisdiction is involved because it is designated as County Rd. 427.

The same complaints were aired before the 1961-62 Council and county commissioners without a solution being found. The residents were told yesterday a widening project would entail several other details, including construction of a drain.

Reapportionment Action Due In Assembly

Loan Plan, Bond Issue Added To Legislature Slate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's special session of the legislature went into its second day Tuesday with the legislative reapportionment problem, a proposed $275-million capital improvements bond issue and an industrial development loan program added to an already-heavy schedule.

All three items would go before voters in the form of amendments to the Ohio Constitution if approved by the legislature.

Gov. James A. Rhodes announced the new additions to a schedule that already includes congressional redistricting and many other matters.

The reapportionment call came from the governor after House Speaker Roger Cloud had made a request for the addition Monday.

Congressional redistricting is on the agenda, but no bill has been introduced. The House elections-federal relations committee discussed the matter Monday night and decided to try to arrange joint hearings with its counterpart senate committee in hopes of reaching some 2 district arrangement.

In both redistricting and reapportionment, the U.S. Supreme Court has said districts must be as nearly equal in population as possible.

Republicans saw their seven-vote Senate edge reduced to a 16-16 tie and their 44-vote House margin trimmed to 13 in last week's election. So they want to get as much as possible done now, before those elected a week ago take their seats in the regular session starting Jan. 4.

Democratic leaders say they will not oppose any reasonable redistricting proposal. House minority leader A. G. Lancione, D-Belmont, warned on opening day, however, that "we will oppose any attempt to set up districts intentionally to get rid of Democratic members of Congress."

Pay Raise Detailed For County Offices

Special To The Review
COLUMBUS — Here's how Columbiana County's elected officials would fare under pay raise bills introduced Monday afternoon in the Ohio House, with present salary and proposed listed in that order:

Auditor, $9,400 and $12,200; treasurer, $9,000 and $11,800; sheriff, $7,100 and $10,200; clerk of courts, $9,000 and $12,000; recorder, $7,200 and $10,200; commissioner, $6,600 and $9,600; prosecutor, $8,200 and $11,200; engineer, $9,350 and $14,280, and coroner, $4,400 and $7,200.

Under another salary bill, the county's Common Pleas and probate judges would qualify for a maximum salary of $22,500. Still another bill increases pay of township clerks to 3 instead of 2 percent of the township's annual budget, to a maximum of $3,600, and raises the per diem pay of trustees from $6 to $8.

Maximum pay for trustees would range from $800 a year in townships with annual budgets of less than $10,000 to $1,600 for budgets of $30,000 or more.

$35,000 Truck Fire

Chester Man Asks Recount In Vote Upset

One-Vote 'Victory' Changes In Count Of Constable Race

Glen H. Logston, Chester Democrat, Monday filed a request for a recount after a canvass of nine precincts overturned his unofficial one-vote victory over J. Carl Durham, Newell Republican, in the race for Grant District constable.

The complete but unofficial returns in the Hancock County balloting last Tuesday showed Logston winning the Grant constable post over Durham, the incumbent, by one vote, 1,985 to 1,984.

But a canvass yesterday of votes cast in the nine Grant precincts put Durham in the lead by one vote, 1,988 to 1,987.

In the official canvass by county commissioners and County Clerk staff, Mrs. Mary Stewart and staff, Durham gained four votes and Logston only two to overturn the unofficial winner.

It was a four-way race for the Grant constable post with the two leading vote-getters to win four-year terms.

Chief Harold Davis of Chester, Republican, led the field and gained five votes in yesterday's canvass for a total of 2,077. Durham gained four to move into second place with 1,988. Logston gained two for

Heart Attack Fatal

Roger Tracy, 61, Ohio State Auditor, Claimed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Roger W. Tracy, who twice ran for the state auditor's job once held by his father before finally gaining it on his third try, is dead of a heart attack.

The 61-year-old Republican was stricken while attending a banquet for state examiners at a downtown hotel Monday night. He left the banquet room and died in a police ambulance en route to Grant Hospital.

About 300 persons were attending the banquet, part of a two-day seminar called by Tracy and aimed at improving the technical proficiency of the state examiners, who are part of the state auditor's office.

MOTHERS MARCH. Carrying signs and clutching the hands of their children, a number of Rogers mothers this morning escorted pupils to school in protest to a Beaver Local school bus service cutback as an economy move. Students residing within a mile of school are now required to walk.

Mothers 'March' In Bus Reduction

A "stay-home" strike by Rogers area pupils in protest to a cutback in school bus service today was being planned for Wednesday by parents who held a demonstration march this morning on the route to the school.

Some 60 youngsters were accompanied to school this morning by mothers carrying signs condemning the reduction of bus operations, walking from the main part of the village to the school along the Clarkson Rd.

SHERIFF Russell VanFossan and deputies along with two Ohio Highway Patrol cruisers were at the scene to aid in directing traffic and protecting the marchers along Route 7.

The Board of Education Thursday night, as a result of financial conditions in the district, ordered all children residing within a mile of school to walk, starting today.

Voter rejection of a proposed new 5.4-mill operating levy Nov. 3 brought board action to seek all possible economy measures. Savings on teacher salaries and textbooks are also being considered as further steps.

Beaver Local Levy Recount Set Thursday

United Also Slates Bid For New Tally On Bond Proposal

The County Election Board will start a recount Thursday at 9 a. m. on returns from 15 of the 17 precincts in Beaver Local School District, in which a new 5.4-mill operating levy apparently was defeated by 50 votes in the general election Nov. 3.

The board set the recount date after a committee of five qualified Beaver Local electors filed a petition with the board Monday afternoon and posted the $150 bond required by state law. The statutes require a surety of $10 per precinct.

The recount will be made in all except the Glenmoor Precinct of St. Clair Township and the Southwest Precinct of Elkhorn Township, which cast only a comparative handful of votes on the issue.

Meanwhile, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, was notified today by Chester Brautigan, superintendent of the United Local School District, that electors in that area will file a petition seeking a recount of returns from seven of the 15 precincts on the defeat of a $630,000 building bond issue.

The official canvass showed the bond issue was turned down by a margin of 48 votes.

The Beaver Local recount was

$100,000 May Be Set For Field

No Estimate Given For Trades School In Governor's Plan

A new airport and a technical institute have been proposed for Columbiana County as part of a $275-million capital improvement program proposed today in Columbus by Gov. James Rhodes.

While no specific amounts have been earmarked, the governor said that the funds for the airport probably would be in the area of $100,000, with the facility to be located near the center of the county.

Details will be worked out with the Division of Aviation headed by Norman J. Crabtree, the governor said.

The funds for the technical institute would be included in $12½ million proposed for the development of such institutes throughout the state. No funds have been set aside, however, as yet.

In proposing the airport program, Rhodes said that billions are being spent on space-age activity by the federal government, yet 41 of the 88 counties in the state of Ohio are without airports capable of accommodating today's private business planes.

He explained, "The economic importance of an airport to a community is well documented in national surveys. Time is money to today's busy executive."

He tied in the program with industrial development, pointing out that many likely industrial sites had been turned down because of lack of adequate airstrips in the vicinity.

A total of $5 million out of the $275 million is tentatively earmarked for the airport program.

Board Told Of Progress In 'Master Plan' Project

A second progress report on preparation of East Liverpool's "master plan" was presented to the City Planning Commission Monday night by Daniel Ziegler II, a representative of Carroll V. Hill & Associates.

Ziegler, reporting at the commission's monthly meeting in City Hall, said work is proceeding on a series of surveys that will provide data on which various segments of the plan will be based.

Some of the students are nearing completion, while data gathered in other surveys is being analyzed, he said.

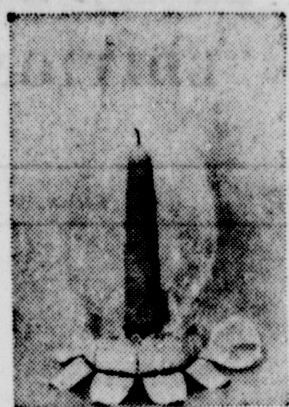

For instance, a study on city-wide land use and housing conditions is 85 to 90 per cent complete, Ziegler said.

So-called household surveys sent home with students have been turned over to Jaycees for tabulation, he added. Approximately 75 per cent of the forms have been returned, he explained.

The forms were sent home with second, seventh and 12th grade students in the East Liverpool and Beaver Local school systems and also with some pupils in the St. Aloysius Parochial School, Ziegler explained.

To reach local families which have no children in school, some of the questionnaires were distributed through churches. Those in the Chester and Newell

For Street Department

Lisbon's Council Buys New Truck

LISBON — Council Monday night accepted the recommendation of its street committee and voted to buy a one-ton dump truck for the street department.

The contract went to Lehman Ford of the Lisbon - Salem Rd., whose bid of $2,832, including a $764 trade - in allowance for the old truck, was the only proposal received when bids were opened last month.

RAYMOND Dixon, street committee chairman, said the committee recommended purchase "because we need it very badly." He said there is not enough money in the street construction fund to cover the cost but money could be transferred from the general fund.

Clerk - treasurer Ray Hempstead said the street construction and repair fund was down to $430.45 as of Oct. 31. He said this compares with $4,000 on the same date last year, and $14,800 two years ago.

The general fund balance Oct. 31 was $18,334, compared to $6,628 last year and $7,500 two years ago.

Hempstead said it is likely more street construction money will come in before the truck is delivered but, if not, purchase money could be transferred from the general fund.

SOLICITOR Joseph Baronzi suggested that Council investigate if a truck license bureau can be established here as an additional source of income.

An Ohio Municipal League bulletin on this subject reads, "Thirty - four per cent of the motor vehicle license revenue collected from motor vehicles registered within a municipality are returned to the municipality of registration.

"The motor vehicle license fees are returned by the state to the county auditor, and the county auditor in turn distributes this money to the cities and villages within the county."

Councilmen pointed out that trucking is a big business in Lisbon but the nearest place to get truck licenses is at Salem. They said they believe Lisbon would realize a boost in revenue if licenses could be purchased here.

MAYOR Dean Stockman appointed Mrs. Blanche Neill, president, Clyde Pike and Dixon to make the investigation with the assistance of Atty. Charles Pike. Former village solicitor and a Columbiana Republican chairman.

Earl O'Connell, custodian of the Lisbon - Center Township dump, controls salvage rights as a supplement to his salary.

That was the arrangement when Council employed him several months ago and still stands, Council declared last night.

Constable William Hiscox and J. Eyler Hinchliffe, Center Township trustee, told Council they receive numerous calls from O'Connell with complaints about people taking things from the dump, and from residents who complain O'Connell is "too bossy."

HINCHLIFFE added that O'Connell is doing an excellent job and the dump is in good condition - "the best in the county."

Mayor Stockman said O'Connell is in charge and anyone wanting to take anything from the dump should make arrangements with the caretaker.

Center Township trustees recently had removed "no salvage from dump" signs erected in O'Connell's behalf.

Councilman Robert Kelm warned of the danger from two dead trees on N. Market St., in front of the Civil Defense building - the old Lincoln School. Mayor Stockman asked the sidewalk committee, Mrs. Neill, Pike and Joe Dornon, to investigate.

age system to carry off water that flows onto the right-of-way from springs. In addition, two private garages are standing on the section designated for the street's right-of-way, they were told.

The residents also were advised that the first step in requesting any such street improvement is to circulate a petition in which owners of abutting property agree to assume most of the cost. But they replied that the property - owners cannot afford such a charge and asserted the cost should be paid out of general city revenue.

Virtually all of the delegation which conferred with the officials yesterday was comprised of persons who reside outside the city limits.

During the discussion, the residents indicated they may stage another roadblock in two weeks - on Nov. 23 - if some steps have not been taken to comply with their requests.

A committee of Shadyside residents renewed the long-standing complaints in Council's meeting Nov. 2. As a result, councilmen promised to confer with them. The Shadyside residents declared the meeting was set for Saturday at 5 p.m., but no councilmen appeared. They set up their roadblock yesterday morning in protest.

But Vodrey said the question on the meeting resulted from a misunderstanding. He arranged the session for yesterday at 4 p. m. Meanwhile, the Shadyside residents removed their picket lines.

The residents complained the street is so narrow that school buses cannot pass with safety. For lack of walks, children going to school on foot must leap onto an embankment or over a hillside to get out of the way of oncoming traffic, they complained.

Evolution Of An Idea

Thirty years ago the American Legislators Association conducted a poll to find out what people thought about getting rid of the two-chamber legislative setup that this country inherited from Europe.

The question concerned only state legislatures, not the U.S. Congress, which was divided in two as a part of the compromise which kept the Constitutional Convention of 1787 from being deadlocked. More than 41 per cent of the nearly 5,000 persons polled thought one house was enough for a state legislature.

Voters of Nebraska were about to adopt a one-house legislature. Interest was running high in what seemed like a new idea, though in fact it was an old idea. Today, Nebraska has its one-house legislature and is well satisfied with it, but interest in the old-new idea has turned cold.

INSTEAD, legislators are frantically trying to rearrange themselves to satisfy a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that both houses of all state legislatures shall be truly representative of people. This is in conflict with the prevailing practice of basing one house of the legislature on political units, instead of population units.

It is being pointed out—and not always facetiously—that the issue could be dissolved if all states would switch to one-house legislatures. Indeed, if the Supreme Court ruling that population is to be the sole basis is going to be followed out to the letter there is no reason for the second house.

'Republicans' In The Cabinet

President Johnson's praise of the Republicans on his administrative team—Secretary of Defense McNamara, Secretary of Treasury Dillon, CIA Director McCona, McGeorge Bundy, special assistant for national security affairs, and John McCloy and Robert Anderson—raises a ticklish question.

Are men like these to be thought of as Republicans working with the Johnson administration, or are they to be thought of as former Republicans who turned Democratic?

Were men like the late Henry L. Stimson, a Republican who served in the cabinets of four presidents—Taft, Hoover, Roosevelt and Truman—partisans in politics? Or were they above partisanship?

Was the late Frank Knox, who served under Franklin D. Roosevelt as secretary of the navy, a Republican because of his distinguished service to that party, or a Democrat because of his distinguished service to the Democratic party?

The point is particularly sharp in the case of Defense Secretary McNamara, target of unremitting partisan attack during the national campaign. He was accused by the "opposition" of deliberately weakening the defenses of the United States. Yet, on the record, he is a member of the "opposition."

Political affiliation is wholly a matter of affirmation in the United States. With occasional exceptions, Republicans and Democrats do not even try to read their associates out of the party. There are no loyalty oaths in partisan politics in this country.

Franklin D. Roosevelt once toyed with the idea of excluding Southern Democrats who did not support his program from the party fold, but nothing came of it except a rebuke from fellow Democrats. And at the moment, to be sure,

Expendable

Two out of three houses in this land of the re-usable container are running out of room.

Their cupboards and crannies are full of glass and plastic that came with the product and was too nice to throw away.

Once, when the Twillery seemed cramped even beyond its built-in limitations, a roundup of containers was ordered. A truckload of the things had been stashed in various places—everything from Christmas boxes from years back to newfangled plastic containers that had contained ice cream.

We rounded up milk bottles, though no one in the family had seen anything but cardboard milk containers for years. Some of these had been cut in half and the bottom half filled with dirt for flower pots.

BOOZE BOTTLERS make a specialty of gift bottles suitable for bud vases and glassware collections.

A cheese company distributes its product in a ceramic masterpiece that defies the purchaser to throw it away and end up being sorry for wantonly wasting something he might need.

Another cheese company once littered the land with an ornamental glass suitable for toss-potting on a small scale—too small to be competitive with a full-sized drinking glass, too pretty to be thrown in the trash.

Coffee, preserves, pickles, vegetables, syrup—all come in re-usable containers. Frozen items are packaged in aluminum containers with an irresistible appeal to "string savers."

This is in contrast with an era in which mason jars and jelly glasses were the only containers suitable for re-usage. Every household owned its complement of these indispensable items and woe to the housewife who did not return them to their rightful owner when they came to her hand.

Containers were "money in the bank" items. Then came a revolution that did

Historically, it existed only to curb the popular branch—the lower house. This was pursuant to the credo in the Old World and still current in the New World that popular government was not to be trusted any further than the tether attached to it by an aristocratic property-conscious "house of lords."

IT HAS BEEN 30 years since interest was stirred up by Nebraska's "unicameral legislature"—30 years during which Nebraskans have been well satisfied with what was regarded in 1934 as a startling innovation, then forgotten.

Out Of Reach

The frightening experience of a 2-year-old East Liverpool boy should serve as another warning to parents to be extremely careful where they place bottles that contain poison or other harmful contents.

The youngster consumed a quantity of bleach from a bottle he found in the basement at home. Fortunately, he escaped with no apparent ill effects.

The next youngster might not be so fortunate, however, so recheck your medicine cabinets, shelves and other places where harmful liquids may be resting.

Get them up high where they can't be reached by unsuspecting youngsters.

Time To Defrost A Few!

Labor Will Test 'Neutral' Course

By Victor Riesel

During the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 5, two days before Labor Day, a newspaper columnist answered the phone in his home. The operator said the President was on the wire. It was Lyndon Johnson.

For almost half an hour he spoke of the problems of the presidency. The chief executive read a page or so of the talk he was preparing for the Labor Day demonstration in Detroit's Cadillac Square. Though it was to be a huge union rally on the eve of Walter Reuther's final drive on the automobile industry, the President said he would be neutral on that day as in the future.

Now that the last hurrahs of the campaign have gone with the echoes of the final count, the quality of that neutrality will be strained. This is labor's day and the men who lead it plan to make it count, as they once did after an earlier landslide.

THAT WAS in pre-historic 1936. It takes us who are beginning to gray at the temples to remember the awesome Leonie John Llewellyn Lewis, "King Coal," striding to the White House after the election.

He asked one thing of Franklin D. Roosevelt—backing for a massive offensive by labor against the mass production industries, steel, auto, rubber, electrical equipment. Labor had given to FDR of its sinews, money, manpower and mass persuasion.

That support was given and the giant unions were born among the gargantuan mills. Thus the North was unionized and with it came political power.

Now, there are those inside labor who want to ask the same of FDR's protegee, Lyndon Johnson—similar support. But this time in the non-unionized South. Labor wants to roll into the South as it hurtled into the North some quarter century ago.

Whether it will get from LBJ what it received from FDR is in the province of the soothsayer not the newsmen.

THERE WILL BE other strains on the White House al-

There are months of labor lull with its union friends, crises ahead. Men whose hundreds of thousands of followers work on the inner mechanism of our industrial society are ready for action—strike action, perhaps, on the nation's rails, docks, freight and passenger deep sea fleets and in the steel mills across the land.

Within a few weeks members of 11 "off-train" unions will be free to strike for more wages and new intricate working conditions. This would pull out 450,000 men and paralyze the lines like a set of broken toy trains.

Even if there is no stoppage, or only desultory delays, trouble on the rails will break out again during the first year of the new administration as the on-train unions launch their counter-offensive against heavy layoff of firemen.

THIS LAYOFF of men is possible under the law and a Supreme Court decision. But the law runs out soon enough and freight, passenger fleet and such newcomers to the headlines as Charles Luna, president of the Railroad Trainmen, will insist that the men laid off be rehired. At that moment there will be a head-on collision between the brotherhoods and the railroads—with the White House in the middle.

And around the corner, on Dec. 20, there is the moment when 60,000 Longshoremen may walk off the piers. There have been seven such strikes since 1947—the last one costing the economy about $1 billion.

Should this crisis run into the new year—as did the last walk-out—it will begin blending with another embryonic emergency.

The Steel Workers, led by their $50,000-a-year president, Dave McDonald, are preparing for action.

No one yet knows what the million-member United Steelworkers leadership will ask. But it will be considerable. The rank and file want at least as much as Walter Reuther won for the Auto Unionists—and more.

STEEL LABOR is pushing for a guaranteed lifetime job, shorter work week, bigger pensions, earlier retirement and hundreds of revisions of the local working rules. This will not stir enthusiasm in the industry, which is prospering for the first time in years. There could be a strike any time after May 1.

And that crisis will soon run parallel with a "sleeper." Few are aware that contracts for licensed and unlicensed seamen, cooks as well as masters and mates, covering scores of thousands of men who run our merchant and luxury fleets, expire on June 15 on both coasts. Could there be a strike which would bottle up these fleets?

"It might get to be a pretty tough moment," the blond Viking-type Paul Hall, president of the Seafarers International Union, told this column. "A tanker strike would tie up our waterfronts and in a few days would force the embargo of considerable trucking and rail shipments, too."

"It's fifty-fifty at this point that it could happen. If it does, it will be a mighty big strike." As crisis tumbles onto crisis, the calls for abandonment of White House neutrality will be loud and clear. It will take a master strategist to steer a middle course.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

A number of columnists and commentators are now saying that the victory for Lyndon Johnson conclusively shows that the political philosophy of Barry Goldwater is outmoded. I disagree. Conservatism has been outvoted, yes, but outmoded, no.

The fact that conservatism is not popular with the majority of the American electorate at this time does not mean it is old-fashioned or wrong. It simply means that the more liberal philosophy, filled with promises for everyone, is more attractive to those who apparently feel that the federal government has the cure for all of society's ills.

Those who are hoping that Republicans will now abandon the conservative cause in favor of a more pragmatic political philosophy under-estimate the deep convictions of conservatives. We will continue to fight with all of our strength against the advocates of a welfare state. We will continue to seek out and expose corruption and immorality in government. Our heartfelt desire for fiscal responsibility has not been lessened, nor has our conviction that strength, not appeasement, is the only way to combat our Communist enemies. Our view that individual and property rights should be protected remains unchanged, as does our abhorrence of a political philosophy which engenders socialism.

The instant cause of conservatives is one of education. Conservatives must appeal to all thinking Americans to join forces against those who would kill individuality and initiative. The millions of youngsters who were inspired by Barry Goldwater must remain in the conservative camp. When the votes of the conservative converts and those of our youth are added to the 25 million people who did vote for Barry Goldwater, it may well be possible to swing the pendulum back to the right.

The Opposition's Role

By David Lawrence

People Should Be Informed Of The Issues

Was the American electorate adequately informed during the recent campaign? Could it learn in just two and a half months both sides of the fundamental issues? These questions are being widely talked about by many of the leaders of the defeated party.

The subject David Lawrence is more important and immediate than the argument about who shall be chairman of the national committee of a party or who shall be groomed as a candidate for the presidency in the next election. The discussion centers today on plans to put into effect an organized opposition which month after month in the next four years will appraise the main issues and tell the American people about them.

To maintain an opposition party does not mean to hamper or obstruct, but to enable the people to get both sides of controversial questions so that the electorate is informed on public issues.

The opposition Labor party in Great Britain, which came into power recently, had long been preparing for a possible takeover of the government. Even what is called a "shadow cabinet" had been selected, and the individuals had been familiarizing themselves with the work of the executive departments in their respective fields.

This corresponds to what is often called a "task force" in this country, but in Britain it consists of persons familiar with particular fields of government who fathom the controversies of the day and make public statements and speeches presenting the opposition viewpoint.

THE DEFEATED Conservative party in England—now in an opposition status—has already selected and announced its "shadow cabinet," and is hard at work preparing to give the people the other side.

While the British system could not be copied in the United States in all its details because in England members of the Cabinet are usually part of the parliamentary majority, there are nevertheless certain practical adaptations which are now being discussed.

It would mean for instance, the designation of a national commission consisting not necessarily of potential candidates for the presidency but comprised of prominent men of Cabinet caliber, with experience in public affairs, who are willing to devote themselves continuously to the project.

It's a realistic fact that an incumbent administration commands the television stage and the headlines in the press and is able to put across its version of public policy. Often it takes advantage of its position to put out statements on controversial subjects and issue publicity that have an air of authority and truth, when in fact they are primarily political and ought not to go unchallenged.

THE OPPOSITION leaders in Congress, moreover, are so busy with legislative procedures and the coordination of the work of the national legislature that they do not have an opportunity to dig into all the public questions which are being dealt with by the executive departments, and make effective rebuttals to administration statements. That's why it now is being suggested that an opposition group should be organized to specialize in the problems of the day.

Such a group would work with the ranking Republicans in the committees of both houses of Congress and gather information constantly on all the major questions which confront the federal government.

This means a continuing study of the impact of government policy on the financial, economic and social life of the country. Full time would have to be given by the members of the national commission, which would have a permanent staff composed of specialists in various fields of governmental policy.

The plan would not alter in any way the status of Republican organizations on the national, state and local levels but it would place a bigger responsibility on the Republican members of Congress.

IT HAS BEEN suggested that Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana—the Republican leaders in the Senate and the House, respectively—should act together now with Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, to bring about a conference of former Cabinet members and other prominent individuals throughout the nation who are familiar with national and international problems as well as with the operations of the executive departments.

Such a conference would discuss plans for the organization of a permanent commission to function as a mouthpiece of the opposition. The setup would not in any way affect the opportunities of individuals of prominence in the party to carry on crusades of their own, either on the national or local level, or be concerned with the purely political operations of their Party. It would deal primarily with issues and not with future candidacies.

Winterizing

Insects learned to winterize themselves aeons before people invented anti-freeze, storm windows and snow tires.

Since few insects can migrate to warmer climates, they must face the rigors of cold, lean days—or die.

Some of the bugs, among them the chinch bug, produce an anti-freeze chemical that keeps their internal organs from turning to ice, the National Geographic Society says. Some insects extrude protective coats of shellac and cling to wind-whipped branches. Some just crawl deep down into a pile of leaves and call it a season. Others calmly freeze, without injury, and await the spring thaw.

Insects seem to sense the approach of winter with a built-in "clock" geared to the seasonal rhythm of darkness and light. This is called photoperiodism, and it serves as an early-warning system.

Long before winter, the female grasshopper buries a mass of eggs wrapped in a protective glue-like coat. Warmth will not hatch the eggs unless they have first been frozen—nature's way of making sure a late warm spell won't bring out young grasshoppers to starve.

Even so, life for a grasshopper egg is not guaranteed. The blister beetle lays its eggs nearby. Young blister beetles may feed on grasshopper eggs before crawling into holes of their own to sleep the winter.

250 At Convention

Winona Member Named Ohio Ruritans' President

Franklin Henderson of the Winona Ruritan Club will be governor of the Ohio Ruritan District in 1965.

He was elected Saturday at the annual convention at West Branch High School near Beloit, succeeding Ralph Schneider of North Georgetown.

Over 250 members of 50 clubs in Eastern Ohio attended the business meeting, school of instruction and banquet at which the principal speaker was the Rev. Russell Burgess of Petersburg, W. Va., president of Ruritan National.

Delegates also elected Richard Parrish of Paris R.D., a member of the Washington club, assistant district governor; Harold Spahlinger of Alliance R.D. 2, Lexington Club, secretary; and Bruce Henderson of St. Clairsville, St. Clair Club, treasurer.

The convention nominated James Baxter of Lisbon R.D. 4, Guilford Club, for a director of Ruritan National to be elected in January at Philadelphia, and adopted a resolution supporting Bible Reading and prayer in public schools.

West Township Club in Columbiana County and Greenford Club, Mahoning County, won the two awards offered by Ruritan National. West took the attendance award with a 99 per cent mark, and Greenford received the community service award. Pennyroyal Club of Guernsey County and New Franklin Club of Stark County won the Ohio District's special awards for small clubs.

Fairfield, West Township and Liverpool-Calcutta Clubs were Columbiana County units among the nine receiving zone awards for community service.

The following lieutenant governors were elected at zone caucuses:

Zone 1 — Joe Burbick, Greenford Club; Zone 2 — Paul Wise, Fairfield Club; Zone 3 — Shelton Harrington, Berlin - Ellsworth Club; Zone 4 — H. D. Mullins, Lisbon Club; Zone 5 — Erskine Zurbrugg, Lexington Club; Zone 6 — Lloyd Kempthorne, Green Valley Club, Carroll County; Zone 7 — Joe Brown, St. Clair Club, Belmont County; Zone 8 — undecided, tie vote; and Zone 9 — Tom Wilson, Lodi Club, Medina County.

Maple Ridge club was host. Special music was furnished by the Ruritones, a male quartet from the Greenford Club, and by Marilyn Hahn at the organ.

Richard Speidel of Hanover Township Club, outgoing Ruritan National director, introduced Burgess.

NATO Atomic Force Plan Strikes Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States appears to be reconciled, although reluctantly, to a stretch-out in the timetable for concluding a draft agreement on formation of a sea-borne nuclear missile force within the Atlantic Alliance.

The timetable had set up a year-end target date for the proposed agreement, which is being hammered out by working group of North Atlantic Treaty Organization representatives in Paris.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak said after a conference with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday that French opposition to the nuclear-force project had opened up a lot of questions that would take some time to answer. He dismissed talk of any final agreement in the immediate future.

U.S. officials conceded today that the vigorous campaign against the multilateral nuclear force — MLF — recently launched by French President Charles de Gaulle has badly tangled an already complicated situation.

But the real reason for delay now is the fact that Britain's new Labor government needs some time to develop NATO nuclear plans of its own.

The Labor party has advocated that Britain get out of the nuclear weapons field entirely and rely primarily on the power of the United States for protection.

Rusk apparently still hopes to get the Paris committee of diplomats to conclude a draft agreement if possible by the end of the year.

Officials now say that the United States certainly is interested in whatever new ideas the British Labor government will put forward and understands the need for a delay in any final action for a reasonable time into 1965. The "reasonable time" is defined by officials here as meaning a delay of weeks and not months.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson is expected here in about a month for talks with President Johnson. U.S. officials hope then to get some more precise ideas of just what nuclear weapons plans the new British government has in mind.

Fall Color Indoors

Rivaling the blazing hues of autumn, mums will last indoors for weeks if treated well. Kept out of direct sunlight except in the early morning and afternoon, mums also prefer an evenly moist soil. This is best maintained by keeping the plants in clay pots which will leach out excess water through the sides.

College Theater Aids Mental Health Cause

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For 10 seasons now, the college theater has been helping state officials create an atmosphere of understanding in Ohio about mental health problems.

The collegiate actors and actresses present one-act plays, usually about a half-hour long, dramatically portraying emotional problems of the family or community. Discussions follow.

Audiences are Parent-Teacher Association members, church organizations, service clubs, mental health associations, youth groups and even prison inmates.

The plays are professionally prepared under auspices of the American Theater Wing and Family Service Association of America.

Ohio is the first state to have such a program on a formal basis, mental hygiene department officials believe.

Chester Legion Contributes $1,500 For Firemen's Truck

A contribution of $1,500 to the Chester volunteer fire department towards the purchase of a new truck was approved at a meeting of American Legion Post 121 Monday night.

The fund for the $21,700 truck also includes $5,000 from Chester Council, a matching amount from the fire department, and $1,000 from the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co.

John Fred Morris, commander, presided.

It was announced the regular social meeting will be held Friday night at the post home for members. A dinner and dance in observance of Veterans Day will be held Saturday, with dinner to be served at 7 and dancing to begin at 9. A round and square dance will be held at the post home Nov. 20.

Byron Allison, chairman, presented a report of the nominating committee for the election of three members to the Board of Directors in December. Curtis Wallace, finance officer, gave a detailed report of the audit of the post records, and Charles W. Morris, adjutant, gave a report on the current membership drive.

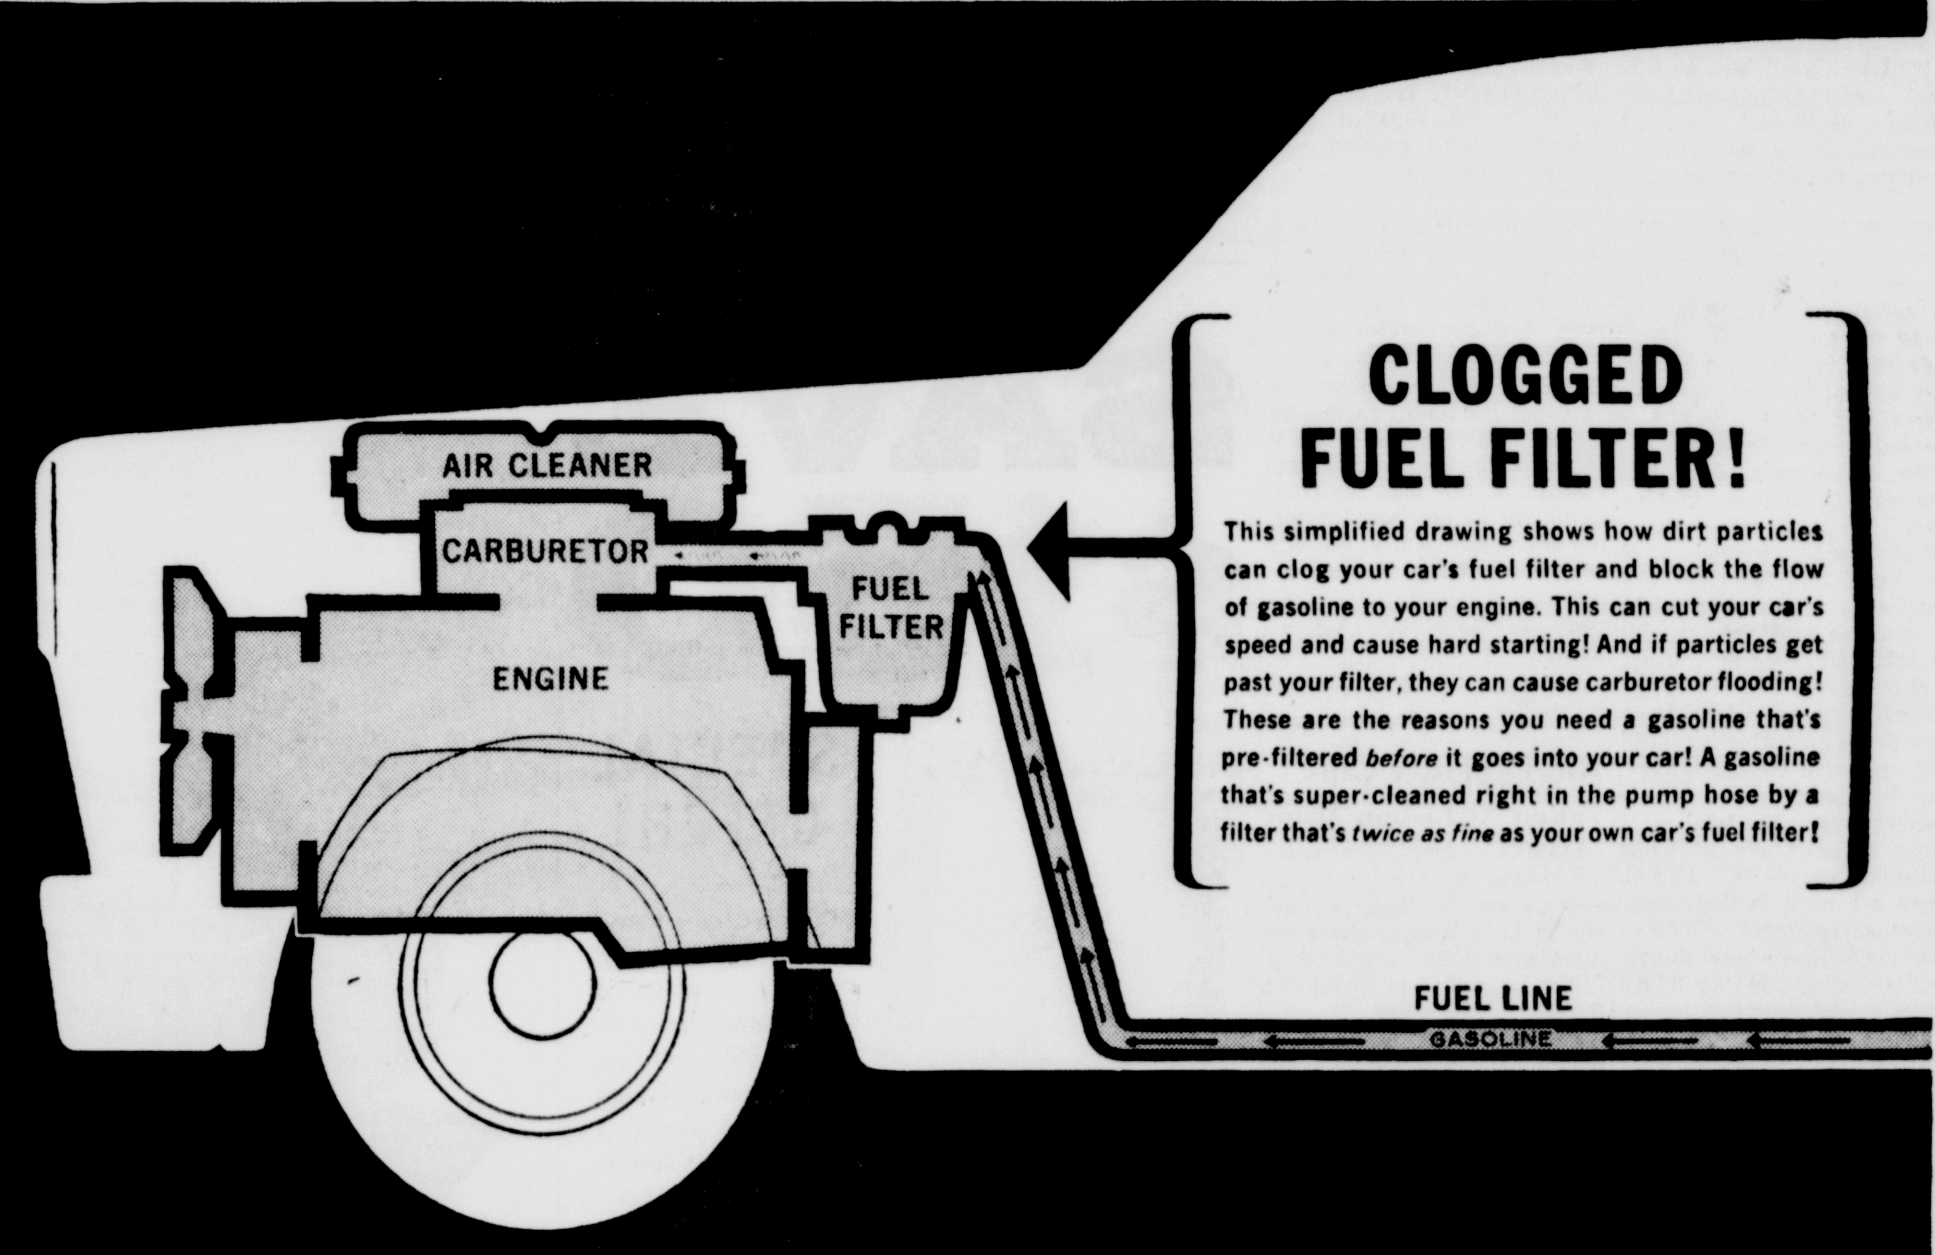

The Board of Directors was authorized to proceed with necessary repairs and new equipment needed for the grillroom. Orris Cundiff, Warren Jones and Jeddie Spencer were named as a committee to investigate the purchase of new aluminum poles for the post flags and standards.

Victor N. Goppert of Chester was enrolled as a new member. Refreshments were served by Ed Huff and John Strum.

CAUTION!

Your modern car has a fuel filter in the gas line to trap dirt particles present in all gasolines. Your owner's manual recommends replacing this filter at regular intervals because it can become clogged. A clogged filter can seriously affect your car's performance!

THE NEW BORON

is Super-Cleaned right in the pump hose!
Sohio's Super Filter is twice as fine as your own car's fuel filter!

NO matter how clean a gasoline is refined, it still picks up dirt particles in transit. This is true of any and all gasolines! If these particles get into your fuel system, they can cause poor engine performance. That's why today's cars come equipped with special fuel filters in the gas line. If you look at your owner's manual, you'll probably see a recommendation to replace your fuel filter at regular intervals. That's because a clogged filter can limit your car's speed and cause hard starting. There's still another problem! If dirt particles get through to your carburetor, they can cause your carburetor to flood!

The simple answer is to pre-clean your gasoline just before it goes into your car. That's what Sohio has done by installing a 5 micron Super Filter in the hose of every New Boron pump! The smaller the micron size, the finer the filter. Compare Sohio's 5 micron Super Filter with car fuel filters which range from 10 to 40 microns! Sohio's

Super Filter is at least twice as fine! This means it will not only stop dirt that can clog your filter, but it will also stop dirt that can get through to your carburetor!

ATTENTION OWNERS OF 1963, '64 AND '65 CARS!

If you own a newer car, Super Filtering is only a part of the fuel system protection you get with The New Boron! You see, your engine has an important new design change to reduce air pollution. It's a crankcase ventilation system that recirculates crankcase fumes back into your engine. These fumes contain impurities which can increase dirt deposits around your carburetor's throttle plate. The result can be stalling, rough idling and gasoline waste!

The New Boron contains a special Carburetor Cleaner that removes carburetor throttle plate deposits. This highly effective cleaner also keeps new deposits from forming. So always use The New Boron and get two-way protection for your car's fuel system. Get Super Filtering plus a special Carburetor Cleaner.

Always look for this new Sohio Super Filter on the pump hose before you buy gasoline!

Wellsville Board Accepts

Driver, Janitor
Quit School Staff

The Wellsville Board of Education Monday night accepted the resignations of two employees, hired a custodian and signed a contract with a firm for the maintenance of the heating control systems.

John D. Bobalik resigned as a bus driver and Nicholas J. Larson resigned as custodian of Fairview School at Hillcrest.

Joseph Baker, 29, of 1523 Commerce St. was employed as Fairview custodian to replace Larson. His salary will be $2,600 a year. He was selected from the Civil Service Commission list.

A "PERIODIC service agreement" was signed with the Minneapolis - Honeywell Co. for the maintenance of the thermostat control systems in the buildings. The firm will spend one day, four times a year inspecting, cleaning and repairing the systems.

The board had a contract with the firm two years ago. It was a blanket protection plan at a cost of $630 a year. This was dropped when the price was increased to $848.

At the outset of the meeting, the board met in the health room with a delegation of three parents and 10 teachers. The parents expressed dissatisfaction over the low grades given their children in a high school subject.

Earlier, several other parents had met in Supt. Lowell Myers' office to discuss the problem.

William Ferrall, vice president, conducted business in the absence of Russell Dysert, president. Dr. Janis Lauva, a member, also was absent.

DURING the hour-long discussion, Ferrall commented that a closer supervision of teachers is needed to make sure the students are receiving the proper instruction in one grade level so they will not be behind the next. Myers said the teachers are checked periodically.

The parents were informed no changes will be made in the grades.

Earl Mundy, supervisor of custodians, reported plans are being made to reseed the field at Nicholson Stadium.

The board agreed to wait until next summer before starting a remodeling project at Fairview School. The teachers and PTA requested changes to provide for library books.

Myers reported a total of 13 tuition students are attending Wellsville schools this term. There are eight in the kindergarten classes, three seniors from the Southern Local district and two others in the high school paying their own tuition.

AMERICAN Education Week is being observed in the schools this week. Parents are invited to visit any day, although Wednesday and Thursday have been designated as Visitation Day. The program is being directed by a teachers' committee.

The Wellsville Veterans Memorial Council will present a program for the Junior and Senior High students Wednesday at 11 a. m. at the Beacom Memorial gym for Veterans Day.

The national anthem will be played, a color guard will post colors and silent prayer will be observed.

Wellsville churches will ring bells to mark the occasion. Myers said elementary teachers have been asked to conduct classroom observances.

Myers said he plans to attend the convention of the American Association of School Administrators Feb. 13-17 at Atlantic City. He urged that board members also attend.

THE tuberculosis testing program has been conducted in the schools. A total of 986 students, including 76 from the Immaculate Conception Parochial School, were tested. The program was held this year for the first, third, fifth, seventh, 10th and 12th grades.

Myers read a report from the Ohio Education Association on the number of bond issues and tax levies that passed on were defeated at the Nov. 3 general election in the state.

Myers said the Ohio Association of School Administrators will meet Nov. 20 at Columbus. Superintendents and board members from the area also have been invited to Ohio State University Nov. 18 for a briefing on the economic improvement act. Myers said he plans to attend.

He also said Wellsville would receive $107,961.75 more a year if the proposed increase of the Ohio sales tax is passed in the State Legislature.

THE BOARD received an invitation to attend a meeting of the Fairview PTA Thursday night. Movies of school activities will be screened.

Mrs. Margaret Lloyd, delegate, left today to attend the Ohio School Boards Association convention at Columbus. It ends Thursday. Myers and Ferrall may attend the final day.

The Little League Football group was given permission to use Nicholson Stadium for a game Thanksgiving Day.

The board agreed to send a letter of thanks to the State Highway Department for the repairs made to Route 45 hill. The board in September pointed out the "deplorable" condition of the hill and the danger to school buses.

The condition was brought to the attention of various state officials and work was started in mid-October. The berm and shoulders were repaired, new guardrails were installed and sunken places fixed.

THE BOARD also agreed to ask the highway department to conduct a survey to determine if there is enough traffic on the road to warrant widening.

Raymond Rolley, clerk, reported a state examiner is checking his books. In his financial report, he said there is $48,990 in the general fund and $100,533 in the bank account. It will not be necessary to borrow any money to meet year-end obligations, Rolley reported.

Myers commented on the "fine job" Rolley has been doing.

An informal discussion period followed.

Deputies said the door on the shack was pried open and the blasting caps taken, sometime between Saturday afternoon and this morning.

The caps are very dangerous as they can be set off by impact or by battery, authorities warned.

Tracy

job that Tracy rose to two of the highest positions in state government — state treasurer and state auditor.

Tracy's first attempt at election to the state auditor's position held by his father, the late Joseph T. Tracy, from 1921 to 1937 was in 1944, but he was defeated. He made another unsuccessful try in 1948.

In 1950 he ran as the Republican candidate for state treasurer and won. He was re-elected to three more two-year terms in 1952, 1954 and 1956.

In 1958, the first time state officials were elected to four year terms, he joined most other Republican candidates in falling before a Democratic landslide brought on by a controversial "right - to - work" amendment to the constitution.

After losing his treasurer's job to Democrat Joseph T. Ferguson, Tracy joined a Columbus investment firm until 1962 when he made his political comeback by once more running for state auditor.

James A. Rhodes had vacated the auditor's post in his successful campaign for governor, and Tracy was elected, defeating former Democratic Lt. Gov. John W. Donahey, of Alliance.

As state auditor, he continued Rhodes' policy of keeping the public informed of his office's work through numerous releases and reports to the press.

The seminar at which he was stricken fatally was just one way in which he tried to insure a competent staff of examiners for the state. One of the aims of the meeting was to emphasize Tracy's drive to make sure all officers and political subdivisions comply with the law for annual inventories.

Gov. Rhodes, who learned of Tracy's death shortly after returning to Columbus from a speech in Chicago, was the first of Ohio officialdom to express grief.

Rhodes said his death "comes as a shock" and expressed his "sincere and heartfelt sympathy to his family." "Mr. Tracy served the citizens of Ohio nobly and devotedly, and he will be remembered," Rhodes said.

Under Ohio law, it is up to Rhodes to appoint a successor to Tracy until a new auditor can be elected at the 1966 general election.

Rhodes Names Goble
To Fill Auditor Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Chester W. Goble, former Ohio Selective Service director, was sworn in today as interim state auditor to fill the vacancy created by the death last night of State Auditor Roger W. Tracy.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, who made the appointment, explained that immediate action was necessary for continuity in the auditor's office.

Goble, formerly served as assistant state auditor under Rhodes when the governor held that office, as an aide to Tracy who succeeded Rhodes as auditor, and recently as a member of the governor's staff.

The governor's office indicated that Goble would continue in office as auditor under a full appointment.

Goble, who is 71, is a native of Columbus and served as Ohio adjutant general during the administration for Former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

Weirton Man In Shock

After Crash Fatality

CADIZ — Henry Miguel, 42, of Weirton remains under observation at the Twin Cities Hospital at Denison where he was admitted for shock as a result of an head-on car - truck accident in which Navy Seaman Marvin Yoho, 20, was killed early Monday morning on Route 250 near Tappan Lake, eight miles north.

Miguel was driver of the truck. The rig plunged into the lake and sank upside down after the crash. He escaped through a broken windshield. The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said Seaman Yoho's car went left of center in the fog and rammed the truck. Seaman Yoho was enroute to his home about 10 miles away, near Freeport. He had been stationed in Illinois.

cell areas were handed out by Boy Scout volunteers.

Approximately 700 persons were questioned in a survey of shoppers in the central business area conducted on Oct. 15 and 17, Ziegler revealed. He said the answers are being tabulated by the planning concern's Columbus office.

A survey form has been distributed to businessmen by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and some of the blanks have been returned and are being tabulated by Jaycee-Ettes, he said.

Ziegler said representatives of the "master plan" concern will continue to speak at public gatherings, explaining the purpose of the project, how the study will be prepared and the objectives it will seek to point out for the city's growth and development.

Ziegler said the concern still is gathering data for an economic base report and population trends and projections. When the statistics are complete, that section of the report will be written, he said.

A sub-contractor is pushing work on preparation of maps to accompany the plan. The job should be completed by Nov. 30, he said. As the maps are completed, they will be passed on to Engineer George S. Bloomgren for checking, he added. The first map will cover the central business area and adjacent territory, he said.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey has furnished the firm with municipal data, including information on fire equipment and stations, water and sewage plants and the Thompson Park area, he said.

Answering a query from Mayor Merrill Hall, Ziegler said the land use survey soon will have progressed to the point that helpful information can be offered the Board of Education in selection of sites for three new consolidated elementary schools authorized in a fund program approved by voters Sep. 15.

The mayor commented that under a new practice municipalities sometimes acquire land adjoining new school sites and the school and city officials then co-operate in making the tracts available for recreation purposes.

As a result of a question approved by voters Nov. 3, the mayor said he expects to appoint a new three-member City Park Commission. When the commission is named, its president automatically will become a member of the Planning Commission. In addition, the law also authorizes appointment of another "citizen" member to the commission, raising its number from five to seven.

Ziegler asked recommendations for appointment of a committee on subdivision controls. He said committees also should be appointed soon to study recommendations on transportation and the central business area.

E. L. Wheatley, president of the IBOP and a member of the commission, invited Ziegler to send a representative to speak at a Christmas party of Local 124 Dec. 12 at the IBOP headquarters.

In addition to Wheatley, Vodrey, Hall and Bloomgren, those attending were Don Eckert and George Steele, members of the commission, D. R. McGillivray, clerk, Councilman James Cunningham and Glenn Waight, a member of the County Regional Planning Commission. The next meeting will be Dec. 14.

Only two other changes of any significance were noted in the canvass of the Grant District returns.

Payment Set On Southern Local Playlot

The purchase of a lot opposite the No. 16 School for enlarged playground facilities was authorized by the Southern Local School District Board of Education Monday night.

The board approved payment of $1,000 for the property of Ernest Putnam, pointing out the money is utilized from $5,000 obtained from the recent sale of the abandoned grade school at Salineville.

Funds from the sale of the school can be used for permanent improvements only, not for school operations, it was reported.

The Putnam lot adjoins two lots donated to the school district last year by Paul Serafy for a play area.

In other action, the board discussed hiring a school nurse and elementary vocal instructor-assistant band director.

A prospective nurse will be interviewed Monday by Jack Baker executive head. The district has been without nurse and elementary instructor this year due to insufficient finances prior to the Nov. 3 election in which an 8.8-mill operating levy was approved.

The board members adopted a resolution of appreciation for those who assisted in the levy campaign.

Following the session, members attended a meeting of the Citizens Committee on the Levy at which a celebration fete was held.

Miss Ruth McNichol, board member, was absent. The next meeting will be Dec. 14.

Recount

petitioned by a committee comprised of Ruth Green of the West Precinct of St. Clair, chairman, Sally Cloran of the Calcutta Precinct, Martha Mitcheson of the West Precinct and Margaret Duffy and Eve Montooth, both of the Calcutta Precinct.

The law requires such a petition must be filed by five qualified electors who certify that they supported the issue.

O'Hanlon estimated the recount may require most of the day, pointing out that the total vote on the issue was more than 3,000.

Normally, the board requires an average of 20 minutes per precinct for a recount, but in the case of Beaver Local there were some polling places in which approximately 500 votes were cast — an extremely heavy turnout—he pointed out.

In filing for the recount, the Beaver Local committee also signed waivers of their right for official notices required by law, O'Hanlon said. In that way, the board was able to set the new tabulation Thursday — probably the briefest time after an election in which Columbiana County ever has held a recount, O'Hanlon said.

Law requires the parties involved be given five days' formal notice of the hearing. The recount must be held within 10 days after the request is filed.

O'Hanlon pointed out that any group of five qualified electors which opposed the issue also may be represented at the recount, provided they file a request in writing. The applicants and their attorney — if they have one — will be permitted to witness the new tabulation.

Notice of the proposed recount in United Local was given O'Hanlon by phone this morning by Brautigham. O'Hanlon said the new tabulation probably will be held Friday or Saturday, as the superintendent indicated the United Local committee also will waive its right for formal notice. Brautigham said the petition will be filed Thursday, as Wednesday is a legal holiday.

The official canvass of returns showed 1,016 in favor of the bond issue and 1,064 opposed.

In United Local's case, a bond of $70 would be required, representing $10 per precinct. If the recount changes the result of the election or there is a change of more than 4 per cent in the vote, there is no charge for that particular precinct.

The board is permitted by law to charge the petitioners a minimum of $5 per precinct, rather than the $10 they posted.

In another facet of the Beaver Local levy defeat, the board conducted an investigation yesterday into a written protest filed by the school board.

The Beaver Local board did not allege in its letter, but had complained earlier, that the wrong school district levy ballots were given to a voter or voters in the Glasgow Precinct of Madison Township.

O'Hanlon said the investigation was made by the Election Board in the presence of Board of Education members and other representatives of the Beaver Local system, plus three persons who staffed the Glasgow Precinct.

O'Hanlon said the Beaver Local board presented no evidence, but cited reports that there had been confusion between Southern Local and Beaver Local school issue ballots in that precinct. The precinct serves electors in both school districts.

The investigation disclosed that the precinct staff had handed the wrong ballot to one voter, but discovered the error and retrieved the ballot, O'Hanlon said.

"The board found no irregularity and the precinct staff was exonerated of any blame," O'Hanlon said. "There was no irregularity there or elsewhere in the election. The board is convinced of the 100 per cent honesty of all 990 precinct workers."

Joe Barrett New Head Of Shrine Club

Joe Barrett was elected president of the East Liverpool Shrine Club at its meeting Monday night at the Casing Club.

Paul Taylor, president, opened the meeting with prayer and the flag pledge.

He named a committee to arrange the annual children's Christmas party Dec. 11 sponsored jointly by the club and the Oriental Band.

The sweetheart fall ceremonial for members and their wives will be held Dec. 5 in Cleveland.

Following the meeting, J. D. English screened movies of the East Liverpool-Martins Ferry football game. Lunch was served.

March

meeting of some 75 adults last night at the Community Hall. The group had considered taking students to school by car, but not everyone had an auto available.

School officials today said the County Board of Education would be advised should there be heavy absences at any school tomorrow.

Retention of children from school because of lack of buses within a mile area is not considered a legal excuse, and parents would be liable to investigation by county officials on truancy charges, one official warned.

The walk order, in line with state regulations concerning school bus travel responsibilities of Boards of Education, brought reduction of three bus runs.

FURLOUGHED as drivers Monday were Dale Williams of the Rogers area and Paul Metrovich and Harold Bacher of the Calcutta area.

About 70 youngsters are affected by the bus run elimination out of Rogers.

Some 200 youngsters are affected in the Calcutta district. One bus driver reported a group of women gathered at a stop in the outer St. Clair Ave. area.

Some students were delayed in getting to school because of a mixup on the run of Metrovich, but there were no other incidents in the Calcutta area, school officials said.

ALMOST all of Rogers south of the railroad tracks lies within a mile of the school, officials said.

Roy Cashdollar, executive head, commented late this morning he was pleased the mothers are escorting children, citing it as a needed safety precaution.

Cashdollar said in August he had urged formation of car pools or adult escorts for children who would have to walk to school.

The transportation cutbacks were only a part of the general reduction of school district operations set up in August because of insufficient funds, he added.

There were cutbacks in athletics, janitor service, summer school, kindergarten, department heads, extra personnel and other areas, affecting the whole district and all the schools, Cashdollar asserted.

COUNTY Supt. James McBride today supported the Beaver Local board in its move, adding he believes the board to be "very lenient" in its policies.

Cashdollar added a commercial bus has been hired to transport the football team to Wellsville Friday night.

City Taverns Using Form To Ban Minors

East Liverpool tavern operators have complied with a request of Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin to have forms printed showing the age of purchasers of liquor, Dale Keddie, president of the East Liverpool Tavern Association, said today.

Keddie said taverns, supermarkets and carry-out stores which have not secured the forms may obtain them up at Police Chief Americo Radeschi's office.

Judge Tobin suggested the use of the forms when he conferred with city tavern operators about two weeks ago on sale of liquor to minors. It was one of a series of meetings the jurist has held with tavern operators throughout the county in a crackdown on sales to the under-age.

Use Natural Pep

AUBURN, Ala. — A prominent Auburn University psychologist warns college students against taking pep pills to help them master their studies. "Fooling around with pep pills is foolish and foolhardy," says Dr. Harold Moon, assistant professor of psychology. "Taking pep pills in order to take final exams casts some doubt on the stability of the individual — and sets him up for additional problems later. All of us need support at times, but not by medication."

Yule Ideas

Exhibit Slated At Salem Site

LISBON — Plans are nearing completion for the 17th annual Christmas - at - Home Tea sponsored by the Columbiana County Home Demonstration Council and the 20 township home demonstration groups, according to Miss Ann Overturf, county extension agent in home economics.

The annual display will be held Wednesday from noon to 9:30 p.m. and Friday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Christian Church in Salem.

A group of Home Council members assembled over 2,000 programs last Thursday for the crowd expected to attend.

Examples of the displays are: Inexpensive gifts, cookie fantasy land, gifts from toweeling, garden gifts, poor man's ceramics, hat bar, Christmas breads and many more. A member of each group will be at each display to answer questions or give demonstrations.

A special demonstration on "Using Christmas Greenery" will be given Thursday at 10:30 a.m. and 2 and 7:30 p.m. by Miss Overturf.

Miss Overturf emphasized the exhibit is open to women interested in ideas for Yule gifts, decorations and confectations and baked goods.

Second Test Due British Government

LONDON (AP) — With its first House of Commons vote safely behind it, Britain's Labor government faced another tonight and was confident of success.

By a margin of seven votes, 307, to 300, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites Monday night defeated a Conservative attack on their pledge to nationalize steel production. The vote tonight was on a Conservative motion of no confidence in Wilson's government.

The government's margin of victory was likely to be larger tonight. The nine Liberal members, who joined the Conservatives in voting against steel nationalization, were expected to abstain.

For two hours Monday night Scottish Laborites were grounded by fog in Glasgow. Since the government normally has only a five-vote majority in Commons and two Labor members were ill, Wilson appeared to face defeat after only 23 days in office. An adverse vote would have forced him to resign.

The Laborites made it from Glasgow in time for the vote, and the fog kept two Conservatives away from London. But Wilson ordered all Laborites weekending outside the capital in the future to get back by train if a critical vote was scheduled.

Laborite commentators saw considerable psychological significance in the government's victory. They felt it reinforced Wilson's belief that his small majority is enough to allow him to call the parliamentary tune.

Even if defeated on a snap Commons vote, they said, Wilson could demand a formal vote of confidence next day and get it. Thus, barring an upheaval inside his own party, he would be unlikely to lose office involuntarily and could pick his own time for calling new elections to seek a bigger mandate.

Mistake In Dialing Brings False Alarm

WICHITA, Kan. — Firemen responded to a call on North Main Street but could not find the reported address or any nearby blaze.

When they returned to the station a telephone operator explained the false alarm. Seems that a person in Peabody, Kan., 40 miles away, tried to report a fire and in his excitement dialed into an automatic long distance circuit, and thus got the Wichita Fire Department by mistake.

History's Worst In Some Areas

Autumn Drought Perils Many Sections Of Nation

CHICAGO (AP) — An autumn drought described in some areas as the worst in history has turned hundreds of communities into emergency areas, threatened the nation's farmers with a multimillion-dollar loss in winter wheat and made forestlands fire traps.

An Associated Press survey today showed that hundreds of counties have become eligible for federal aid as wells, streams and springs have dried up and water has been pumped to farms.

The drought has taken on major proportions in New England, which the U.S. Weather Bureau said was the worst in the area's history. The bureau said the drought has extended for more than six months in four New England states.

Farmers scanned the skies grimly in the Midwest and Southwest as one of the worst moisture shortages in the 20th century began taking its toll on the winter wheat crop.

In California, the drought situation was eased by a torrential rainstorm.

One of the hardest-hit states is Colorado, where the state's entire $100-million winter-wheat crop is near total destruction because of lack of rain. The situation also was described as critical in parts of Wyoming and western Kansas.

The New England drought plagued an area from Pittsfield, Mass., to Hartford, Conn., and from Haverhill, Mass., to Concord, N.H.

The Massachusetts Department of Water reported a 30 per cent water shortage in October and described the situation as a statewide emergency.

Thousands of dairy farms are short of water in Vermont and New Hampshire.

In Pennsylvania, the Crop Reporting Service said the winter wheat crop has a poor start in a state which has an $800-million agricultural industry.

Twenty-five eastern Pennsylvania counties are eligible for federal emergency fed grains and other counties are applying.

An official said that unless heavy rains come before the ground freezes, farmers will be faced with a water shortage all winter. Fifteen communities are now on emergency water supplies and some farmers are hauling water for livestock.

Last month was the driest October this century in Illinois. Wisconsin is experiencing its second driest autumn since records were begun in 1892.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN
Can Fat Be Removed?

"Please help me to deal firmly with an embarrassing fatty bulge. A few years back I weighed 229 pounds. I went to my doctor and he put me on a protective diet. I followed the diet pattern and I listened to what the doctor told me.

"I now weigh 148. Ida Jean Kain pounds. I'm not too flabby. My legs are solid because I walked. But around the armpits I have a ball of fat. This shows when I wear sleeveless dresses. Is there any kind of exercise that will banish this bulge? Also, I have a little roll around my waist. I'm 33 years old and I went from a size 48 to a size 14½ dress."

YOU'VE reduced and held the weightline. Congratulations! Now let's see if we can take up the slack. Whenever a particular exercise request comes in, I first decide which muscle or muscles are involved, and check the way the muscles do their work. In the armpit area it's a combination of muscles, but principally the deltoid, a triangular muscle located on the shoulder, with one angle pointing down the arm and the other two bent around the shoulder to front and rear.

The front part of the deltoid is used in all exercises in which the arm is raised or swung forward against a resistance; the middle portion is used when the arm is moved sideways, and the posterior deltoid is brought into action when the swing is backward.

Since the bulge is near the armpit, try a forward swing against resistance. Raise right arm, place palm of left hand near armpit. Press forcibly on the arm pit with left hand as you reach forward with right arm. This tug-of-muscle is toning. At the end of the reach, maintain the strong muscular contraction for six seconds. Repeat, reversing positions of hands.

TO INCREASE the resistance, push against an immovable object. Stand, or sit in an open doorway, arms raised, palms on doorjamb. Keeping back straight, p-u-s-h against doorjamb forcibly. Hold the muscle contraction for a slow count of six. Breathe normally. Repeat 3 to 5 times.

To pull off waistline roll, reach up with both arms, hold the upstretch and bend sideways. At the end of the bend h-o-l-d the muscle contraction for six counts. Come back to center, realign posture, and bend to the other side.

One more clue to follow: Size 14½ for 148 pounds is too tight and a too tight dress accentuates bulges. Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Isometric Exercises. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Council Rules Post's Vacant At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Council Monday night officially declared vacant the Council seat of Clyde Polen, who had been absent from meetings since mid-summer.

Polen had verbally indicated he would quit, but had not filed a written resignation.

Applications for his post were received from Warren Dunlap of Monroe Heights and Eddie Kellogg of West End.

Council will accept further applications until the next meeting Nov. 30 when an appointment may be made.

Mrs. Clyde Earich of Hayti asked if any further study had been made on her request for extension of water lines to the Hayti area.

Mayor Stanley Fitch said an unsuccessful attempt had been made to convene a meeting of Council and the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs.

He said plans are being made for a joint meeting Monday to air the proposal to extend water service to Hayti, located about 1,000 yards southeast of the village.

Following a discussion on accumulation of junked cars at service stations and elsewhere, the mayor said a study would be made on the matter.

Mayor Fitch said the safety committee and he will meet in the near future to study parking problems in the village.

Council approved an ordinance granting a portion of Jefferson St. to the Assembly of God Church for an addition.

Brush Up Pike's

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hartley of Yuma, Ariz., drove their 1908 model Brush automobile to the top of Pike's Peak, 14,110 feet above sea level. Hartley said he used almost as much water as he did gasoline, making frequent stops to cool the one cylinder engine.

More Rain Due California Areas After Mudslides

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rain was predicted today in Southern California, where storm-triggered mudslides Monday struck with avalanche fury at areas saved earlier from dry-season brushfires.

One mudslide sluiced down a fire-denuded canyon and into a residential street, sweeping a fleeing housewife with it.

Police say Aimee Miller may have been carried three-quarters of a mile and entombed in a catch basin — along with cars, furniture and household debris — in a 20-foot-deep mass of mud.

Her husband, William, 49, singer Frank Sinatra's accompanist, tried to save his wife from their crumbling home, and was also swept away. Firemen rescued him as he clung to a car in the swirling flood.

Their daughter, Meredith, 17, climbed uphill to safety as the family's canyon home twisted and cracked under the onslaught of mud.

The Miller home was destroyed and eight others damaged in the Verdugo Hills section of Burbank, a Los Angeles suburb, which is near the scene of a major brush fire in the foothills last spring.

Other mudslides hit the Santa Barbara area, 100 miles to the north, which lies at the foot of mountains ravaged by fire last September.

In Cleveland District Vote Declared Invalid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown notified the Cuyahoga County Election Board Monday that a local option election in three Cleveland precincts last Tuesday was invalid.

He said the next move in the case involving more than 1,000 missing ballots in precincts K, L and M of Ward 24 was up to the county prosecutor.

Yule Stamps Go On Sale; Mail Early, Brown Asks

The new Christmas stamp (really four different ones) went on sale at the Post Office today, with an initial 20,000 available. Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said.

The stamps are available at the downtown, Station A and Calcutta offices, the postmaster said, urging patrons to purchase their stamps early.

"Weather is a factor that can't be controlled," Brown said, adding that Herodotus' centuries-old statement that 'neither snow nor rain' may be true, but weather certainly can slow down the mails.

"It's urgent that people mailing Christmas cards and gifts make every effort to shop early and to mail early to assure on-time delivery," he said, pointing out that weather can ground airplanes, freeze railroad switches and force trucks to move more cautiously.

The department has several new methods for use in this year's mail service, the postmaster continued.

The most important is the ZIP code and the transportation-distribution system that came into being with the zone improvement plan.

He urged everyone to use the five-digit ZIP number, since, in most cases, it cuts down the number of times a piece of mail must be handled, saving time, labor and money.

"Even if you don't know the code for the addresses of persons to whom you are sending cards or parcels, use the code on your return address. And record the codes from the return addresses of those writing to you," Brown said.

"Moving the Christmas mail is a hard, tiring job, and the 65 local workers deserve all the cooperation they can get," he concluded.

Grandpa's first telephone number was 27 Mine is 555-2368

But that's progress!

Phone numbers were simple when only a handful of people had phones. Once you could even ask for your party by name. You couldn't call very far or very fast...or hear very well. Any call over a few miles was "long distance"...and took hours to get through.

How different it is today! Now you can call next door or across the continent in seconds. And there are so many people to call. From single sheets, phone books have grown to pretty weighty tomes. Telephone service has grown and changed to keep pace. So have telephone numbers...from customer names to two digits...then three...then four...then Central Office names plus four digits. This system lasted quite a while. But by 1950, your demand for service was bursting the seams again and another digit had to be added. Since then, phones in service have doubled...and will double again by 1975!

So once more, demand for service is threatening to outgrow the phone numbering system. In some areas, we could run out of name-number combinations, like KLondike 5-2368, by 1970! But we're planning ahead now so we don't run out...so we'll be ready when your youngsters grow up and want service. That's why Ohio Bell is changing to all-number phone numbers now. They provide 50% more number combinations...enough for years to come.

It takes more than numbers, too. It takes vastly expanded and improved telephone plant. That's the reason for Ohio Bell's record-breaking construction program...over $203,000,000 for new and improved services during 1964 and 1965. And those dollars pouring into Ohio's economy mean more payroll dollars, more telephone jobs and more jobs in supporting industries.

By RICHARD K. DOAN
'Living Camera'

Richard Doan

Call it "Active Camera," went on to be introduced to American TV in 1960 in "Primary," a film report Drew made on Sen. John F. Kennedy's campaigning.

"This style was introduced to network television in December 1960 by ABC in a film editorial, 'Yanki No,'" he recalled.

"The Europeans labeled the style 'cinema verite' and picked it up for such films as 'Breathless,' 'Tom Jones' and 'A Hard Day's Night.'

"We agree with Mr. Brodtkin that the 'active camera' belongs in television," the producer telegraphed this writer, "and it will be interesting to see it used in fictional story telling."

Any questions?

HUBBELL ROBINSON JR., the former CBS executive who is credited generally with launching the long-lamented "Playhouse 90" series, and Robert Alan Arthur, a TV producer who figures in Merle Miller's hilarious new book, "Only You, Dick Darling," will have a big new dramatic series cooking with ABC.

They will film a series of hour dramas in various locales throughout the world. All will be original TV stories.

One of the first scripts will be authored by Merle Miller. It will be an adaptation of his novel, "A Day in Late September."

The network, according to head programmer Edgar Scherick, hopes to line up a "very important person who is in the main stream of American thought" to appear as commentator and host on each program.

THE RESULT was a TV documentary, carried by ABC, called "Crisis: Behind a Presidential Commitment."

Drew's work currently is being seen in a series of one-hour specials called "Living Camera," being shown on various stations from coast to coast, and in six specials he is producing for ABC. The first of these, "Letters From Viet Nam," was shown in September.

Brodtkin, as most videotes know, is the outspoken boss of Plautus Productions and guiding genius behind CBS "The Defenders" and "The Doctors and the Nurses."

He is readying a new weekly dramatic hour, likewise for CBS, called "For the People," which will star William Shatner as an assistant district attorney.

THE OTHER DAY Brodtkin came forth with a proclamation that he is going to introduce a couple of "new concepts" in "For the People."

One of these, he said, was "the hard-line story," which he explained as an attempt to "look at the other side of the coin," and the other he characterized as "the active camera." That, he said, means use of the camera to "communicate a feeling, not a literal picture."

So far, Brodtkin declared, the "active camera" has been used only in the movies, notably in the British imports, "Tom Jones" and "A Hard Day's Night."

"It belongs in television," Brodtkin contended.

AND SO it does, Drew huffed when he read Brodtkin's revelations.

"Brodtkin might be interested to know that these techniques were originated in America for U.S. television, and that they were winning critical acclaim in Europe and prizes in Cannes long before 'Tom Jones' was made."

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Child Should Be Educated In Thrift

Dr. Garry Myers

Some older teachers and elementary school principals may remember the days when in cooperation with a local bank they encouraged children to build up savings accounts through the public school. What they may remember most vividly is the enormous amount of time and paper work which this enterprise entailed. My impression is that this practice, excepting in a few places, has disappeared. I am not aware of any kind of concerted effort in our schools to teach and exercise children in thrift.

The following came in a letter from the Supervisor of Curriculum of a large city's school system. "At the recent annual convention on school curriculum I asked many individuals what their particular school systems or curriculum departments were doing in the area of thrift education. I received no help. My social studies curriculum committee is planning to present some ideas to teachers in grades K-6."

stimulate children to start several weeks before Christmas or some person's birthday to save from their "pocket money" and to deny themselves some sweets as they look forward to the joy of having some money to spend on a gift for a particular person.

I don't think you should overlook the possibility of enlisting their interest in saving money for such purposes as UNICEF, Care, Friends' Service, Heifer Project, and the like.

Of course, there's the possibility of developing a savings bank program through the schools. While this may have a good purpose it never has appealed to me because it usually means so much extra burden to the teacher.

The amount a child saves is not so important as his having a plan, giving up something now for something he will want a little later. If it is too far in the future it might not have much pull.

My bulletin, "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Forests Closed In W.Va.; Fire Situation Cited

CHARLESTON (AP)—West Virginia forests become off limits at 6 p.m. today to all persons except those on authorized business.

The directive was issued Monday by Natural Resources Director Warden Lane, who said it would remain in force "until climatic conditions permit us to reopen the forests."

The forest closure stems from the fire situation, particularly in the southern part of the state. Two hundred timber and brush fires were reported in the southern portion of West Virginia Monday. However, 148 of them were listed as under control.

Asst. State Forester Asher W. Kelly said about 1,100 volunteers and state $1-an-hour workers were fighting the blazes.

Most of the fires were contained in an area made up of Boone, Kanawha, Lincoln, Logan, Wayne and Raleigh counties.

Meanwhile, the Weather Bureau held out little hope for rain, which could off set the bone dry conditions in most of the state.

The official forecast called for little or no rainfall through Saturday.

The smoke and haze which has plagued residents of southern counties for the past three days was expected to move into other areas today and continue through Wednesday.

The closing of the forests also curtailed the state's small game hunting season. However, Lane said he would try to reopen the hunting season later.

Lane also prohibited any kind of burning in areas adjacent to forests or woodlands.

School Coal Contract Let

The contract to supply coal for the 1st St. School was let to the George Stuten Co. of Midland when the Midland Board of Education met Monday night.

The property committee recommended acceptance of Stuten's bid of $7.80 per ton.

The board also renewed insurance on the school car through the McGeehan Agency at a premium of $105.

The high school band was granted permission to participate in the dedication ceremonies of the new Midland - Shippingport bridge on Nov. 30, and the annual Midland Area Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade Nov. 28.

Board members were invited by Charles P. Henderson, program chairman, to attend the dedication ceremonies, and a reception to follow at The Willows Motel in Industry.

A request by Supt. Edgar Richards to allow 10th, 11th and 12th graders of the high school to be dismissed from class early to attend the ceremonies at the bridge was approved.

The Beaver Valley Pop Warner Midget Football League was given permission to hold its championship game at Midland's football field, and Richards was authorized to proceed with a project to have an athletic storage room constructed under the classroom area in the old gymnasium, providing the cost doesn't exceed $300.

It was announced that school system books had been audited for 1963-64 and been found to be in order.

In his monthly report, Richards touched on a variety of subjects, and he reminded that National Educational Week is being observed this week.

He reported that Recognition Day will be held at the high school today with an assembly, honoring the football team and coaches. Movies of several games will be shown, followed by a dance in the auditorium.

Richards received permission from the board to check into the possibility of establishing a National Youth Corps in Midland. The program sponsored by the U.S. Department of Labor is designed to make available financial aid to students needing assistance.

The superintendent reported that various work on the public address system in the auditorium, and suggested a method of improving the track area at the high school stadium.

The report of Mrs. Eldamae Castelli, treasurer, was ordered filed, as was Tax Collector Rudolph Presutti's report for October.

Cash receipts totaling $1,503.65 were received and placed in the proper accounts, and general bills in the amount of $9,725.25 were ordered paid.

Want A Lion?

Leo Must Go To New Home

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP)—If you are looking for a full-grown, 300-pound lion for your backyard, Howard Sautter has one and he is looking for a new home for Leo.

"He's tame, and so crippled that he can't jump two feet, and I'll pay $1,000 to anyone who can prove he roars," Sautter says. But local authorities say Leo must go—and go he will.

"It's a lot better to be sure that he gets a good home now than to keep him longer and have to give him away quick later," said Sautter, 52, a gas station operator who has kept Leo in a cage in his backyard or in the garage for 21 months. Sometimes, Sautter would take Leo out on jobs with him, seating him on the tow truck seat beside him.

The Abington Township commissioners, after receiving a petition from Sautter's neighbors, ruled that Leo was a public nuisance and would have to go.

Sautter at first said he would fight it. "He doesn't bother anybody," he said. "I'm going to get a lawyer and fight this all the way."

Sautter told a newsman Monday night that he had changed his mind and had told the commissioners in this Philadelphia suburb that he'll get rid of Leo as soon as he can find a proper home.

"I thought it would be better all around that way," he said. "though we are very fond of him and it's going to be tough to get rid of him."

He bought Leo as a 3-month-old cub for $250.

Sautter said he has no ill feelings toward most of the neighbors who signed the petition.

"Of the 50 or so who signed the petition, I've had trouble with just 12," he said.

Shetland Pony Just Makes Self At Home

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. Everett Crank returned from taking her daughter Teresa to school and found a horse grazing on her living room rug.

While she was gone a neighbor child came to play with her daughter, found no one at home and left a door open.

Teresa's Shetland pony wandered in and began chewing on the rug.

Youths' Cars Hit On Curve

Cars driven by two youths were damaged in a collision on a Dresden Ave. curve Monday at 5:36 p. m., police said. No one was injured.

The mishap involved a northbound 1949 model auto driven by Martin L. Steinberg, 19, of Pond St. and a southbound 1958 model operated by Allen E. Biggins, 16, of Lisbon R. D. 3.

Steinberg said the vehicles hit on a curve, blaming Biggins. Steinberg estimated his speed at 45 and Biggins said he was driving about 40. There was damage to the left front fender of each car. Patrolman Jack Strobel investigated.

The tractor of a big rig was damaged in a hit-skip collision Monday at 1:40 p. m. on the Freeway, the driver complained to police.

George R. Burks of Girard said another truck attempted to pass him as he drove off a ramp onto the four-lane section of the freeway. The truck pulled too close and hit the left door and side mirror of the tractor, causing $150 damage, Burks said. The offending truck did not stop, the Girard man said. It was damaged on the left side, he added. Burks gave Patrolman William A. Devon a description of the other truck and its license number.

110 At Elks Rites For Class; Initiation Will Be Thursday

One hundred ten attended a dinner of Elks Lodge 258 Saturday night at the lodge home when a class of 22 candidates was indoctrinated.

The candidates will be initiated at a ceremony Thursday night as the "Dr. Charles H. Bailey Class, honoring the "veteran city physician now retired whose career was reviewed by Dr. Samuel Rich at the dinner following the indoctrination. Both are long-time members of the lodge.

Dr. Rich, who with Dr. Bailey have been in practice 48 years, said they began their careers in "the days when the horse and buggy were on the way out and the auto was coming in."

He said there were no finance companies in those days and both were poor and they walked to the homes of their patients. "Dr. Bailey worked day and night among the rich and the poor," Dr. Rich said, "and never seemed to care about payment for his services. He was a real friend of all their patients, having their interests at heart.

It can be truly said that the people of East Liverpool and the Tri-State Area are better because of his practice here."

He added that Dr. Bailey's ability was recognized by members of his profession, who elected him to the American College of Physicians. Dr. Rich then read a message from Dr. Bailey to the class.

Talks also were given by M. B. Letzelter of Steubenville Lodge 231, first vice president of the Ohio Elks Association, and Robert J. Kennedy of Denver Lodge 975, past district deputy.

John W. Eccleston of East Liverpool, deputy of the Ohio South - East District, addressed the candidates.

The indoctrination program was under the supervision of Edward R. Massey, exalted ruler, and Richard L. Scott, past exalted ruler.

The program included a recoding of the history of the order and colored slides.

A dance followed, with music by the Blue Shades.

Take a no-obligation test drive in a 1965 Ford. Maybe you just couldn't believe the ad (reprinted above) which appeared in this paper a few weeks ago. After all, many consider Rolls-Royce to be one of the world's finest cars. But Ford does ride quieter. The world's leading acoustical experts (Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc.) made the tests. The U.S. Auto Club certified the results.

This year's Ford has the strongest body ever... a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibrations... new ultrasoft coil-spring suspensions—all contributing to the new hushed ride. But the ride is only part of what's new.

■ New swept-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room. ■ Transmission tunnel is lower than in competing cars for extra foot room. ■ Trunk has more usable space than ever—holds four 2-suiters standing upright.

■ New ultra-luxurious LTD series—unmatched by any other car in Ford's class. ■ Silent-Flow ventilation (standard on 4-door hardtops) removes stale air, provides fresh air even with all windows closed. ■ Exclusive new twin-edge key—works with either side up.

■ Hot, but hushed, 289-cu. in. V-8 is standard equipment in XL and LTD models.

■ Smooth, thrifty all-new Big Six in other models—the most powerful standard Six offered by any car in Ford's class. ■ V-8 options to 425 hp.

■ All Ford automatic transmissions have 3 speeds, not 2 as in many competing cars. ■ Fully synchronized manual transmissions—you can even shift down to first without clashing gears.

If all this sounds like a lot for one car to offer... take a test drive. See why more people are buying Fords than ever before in post-war history.

Farm Office Summary

District's Markets Offer
Wide Selection Of Meats

An excellent selection of meats is featured this week in the area's markets, with beef roasts, steaks, picnics, hams, pork roasts, chops, poultry fryers and ground meat all rated good possibilities for shopping lists, according to the Agriculture Extension Office in Canfield.

Farm price of meat animals again is a little lower, but as was true last week the farm price has become only one cost that goes into a processed meat product.

Because the farmer's share of the food dollar has been shrinking for a number of years, it takes a big change in farm prices before it is very noticeable in retail markets. This is especially true with such products as sausages, hams, ground meat, franks and luncheon meats. These products have more costs built into them between the farm and the dining room table.

This week four or five kinds of fresh fruits provide the bulk of the kinds available. The most popular and generally the most economical is apples, with a good selection of varieties. The next in volume is bananas, followed by grapefruit, oranges, pears, and grapes. Farm apple prices are generally lower than last year, when Ohio had a very short crop.

Canned fruit specials are more common than last fall. This is especially true of peaches, fruit cocktail, tart cherries and apple products. Prices will tend to be slightly lower on these products than last winter.

Low-priced fresh vegetables become fewer as we approach winter. Snap beans, peppers, radishes, cucumbers and endive have shown price increases in recent weeks. Potatoes also continue to gain in price. At present there is a much smaller price difference than usual between potatoes from different sections of the country. The present price levels, or higher, will prevail throughout the fall and early winter.

One additional fruit is becoming increasingly a good fresh market possibility. Both the quantity and quality of grapefruit has increased this week. Up until this time, much of the selection was from the varieties which have many seeds.

Many more white and pink seedless kinds are now on the market. Normally the flavor and juiciness of this fruit improve until December, when the main season varieties take over. Market forecasts indicate that grapefruit prices this winter will average below last winter.

It's still a little early to tell whether citrus product prices will decline this winter. Prices rose two years ago when a severe freeze injured many trees. Since that time products such as frozen juice concentrate have trended upward in price. Early crop estimates in Florida for oranges indicate a much larger crop than last year, but still below the average of the pre-freeze years.

Stage Set For Massillon-McKinley Showdown Battle

Stark County's Powers 1-2 In Poll; Jackson's Rossford Team 9th

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An entire season of football preparation will be wrapped up in 48 minutes of fury and finesse Saturday as Massillon's Tigers and Canton McKinley's Bulldogs meet with the state high school championship riding on the outcome.

The two Stark County powerhouses, one-two in The Associated Press poll, climax the campaign in a 2 p.m. encounter at Massillon before some 22,000 fans. It will be their 69th meeting, and Massillon has won each has a 9-0 record. Massillon has outscored the foe 277 to 34. McKinley has a 365 to 40 edge. Massillon has won the state title and the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy nine times since the poll was inaugurated in 1947. McKinley was king in 1955 and 1956.

They warmed up last weekend for the climactic contest, the longest timeout anyone had ever heard of.

Marietta, Zanesville, Lancaster and Newark are tied at the top of the Central Ohio League with 3-1 records. Something has to give this week, with Marietta at Lancaster and Newark at Zanesville.

Hamilton Taft wound up with a 7-2 mark, its first winning season. And Hamilton Catholic (9-0) will go for its third unbeaten season in the last six under coach Terry Malone as it meets unbeaten Taylor (8-0-1) Saturday.

Jackson's Rossford Team Gains 9th Spot

Rossford High, coached by Don Jackson, former East Liverpool grid star, finished its season undefeated last Friday night with a 9-0 record and was voted to ninth place in this week's football poll.

Ohio's Top 10 Grid Teams

Massillon with a 36-0 romp over Eastlake North of Willoughby, and McKinley 53-0 over Cuyahoga Falls.

Now it's up to coaches Don Nehlen of McKinley and Earle Bruce of Massillon, and their unbeaten boys.

Springfield South, best of the rebel country teams and rated third in the standings with 9-0, goes against Hamilton Fairfield which hasn't won a game—so the Wildcats figure to be up the at the finish.

The championship will be awarded in next week's Associated Press poll—the last of the campaign—but the Tiger-Bulldog clash is certain to determine the winner of the Hall of Fame trophy emblematic of the title. It goes to the leader of the Associated Press ratings, and only in Ohio is the Rutgers award given.

The "big game" is not the only eye-catcher as the season closes.

Fremont St. Joe ended its third clean campaign, handing by 22-13. Cleveland St. Ignatius defeated Holy Name 40-6 for its fourth straight win and a berth in the Thanksgiving Day city title classic.

Brecksville administered the first defeat to Solon, 22-8, in a game which lasted almost 24 hours. The Bees had a 20-0 edge Friday with 5:29 to go in the third period, when fog closed in and halted the fray. It was resumed 22½ hours later, after

Notre Dame Remains 1st; Bucks Slip To 7th Place

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame is the No. 1 team in the country for the second straight week, but the unbeaten Irish must make a strong showing against Michigan State this Saturday to receive another vote of confidence.

The Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters placed Notre Dame at the head of the major college Top Ten again this week but only by 13 points over Alabama, the Southeastern Conference champion. A shaky 17-15 victory over Pitt last Saturday, coupled with Alabama's 17-9 triumph over Louisiana State, another member of the Top Ten, left the Irish with a slim lead, built on 26 of 41 first-place votes.

Alabama replaced Ohio State as runner-up, receiving 11 first-place votes. The Buckeyes tumbled to seventh following their 27-0 loss to Penn State.

Unbeaten Arkansas and Nebraska and once-beaten Texas each advanced one spot to third, fourth and fifth, respectively.

Michigan bolted from nowhere to sixth while Oregon State moved into the Top Ten in eighth place.

LSU, one of five of the elite to lose last Saturday, dropped to ninth, and Georgia Tech slipped to 10th. Florida and Purdue fell out altogether.

In seeking its eighth victory, Notre Dame plays a team it hasn't defeated since 1954. In the ensuing period, Michigan State has knocked off the Irish seven times. The Spartans also are fresh from a 21-7 victory that knocked Purdue out of the Top Ten and out of the lead in the Big Ten.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points:

1. Notre Dame (26) 380
2. Alabama (11) 367
3. Arkansas (3) 334
4. Nebraska 283

6. Michigan 184
7. Ohio State 138
8. Oregon State (1) 114

Wittenberg No. 1, Turns Down Bowl

By The Associated Press

Wittenberg, which has finished its season undefeated but has rejected participation in a bowl game, retained its No. 1 rating today in The Associated Press small-college football poll.

The Tigers from Springfield, Ohio, have led the Top Ten since the start of the season. This week they received nine of 16 first-place votes and 132 points overall.

The other nine teams also remained in the select group but were shuffled around considerably.

Wittenberg trounced Wabash 42-7 last Saturday, completing its season at 8-0 and extending its unbeaten streak to 29 games, longest in the country. The Tigers were tied once last season.

Almost a certainty to receive an invitation to one of four NCAA-sponsored small-college bowls, the Tigers unanimously voted against such a game at a special meeting Monday.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points:

1. Wittenberg (9) 132
2. Louisiana Tech (2) 96
3. Florida A&M (1) 91
4. Prairie View 75
5. Los Angeles St. (1) 66

Len Dawson Boosts Lead In Passing

NEW YORK (AP) — Cookie Gilchrist, Buffalo's crashing fullback, is beginning to look like the first repeater as American Football League rushing champion.

Gilchrist gained 99 yards in nine carries Sunday against the New York Jets, including a 67-yard touchdown run. Cookie boosted his season total to 720 yards in 131 tries. Matt Snell, the Jets' rookie, trails in sixth place with 579 yards in 131 rushes.

Len Dawson strengthened his lead in the passing department with four touchdown passes for Kansas City. Back in good health after a mid-season rib injury, Dawson has thrown 10 TD passes in the last two games.

Gino Cappelletti of the Boston Patriots moved to within two points of his fourth consecutive 100-point season. Cappelletti had four field goals Friday night. He had made good on 21 of 31 field-goal attempts, kicked 23 straight conversions and also scored two touchdowns for a total of 98 points. Pete Gogolak, Buffalo's kicker is second with 72 points.

Houston's Charley Hennigan remained the pass receiving leader with 60 catches for 1,010 yards and five touchdowns.

Delegation Questions Board On Rumor Of Coach Leaving

A delegation of some 40 persons attended the Midland Board of Education meeting Monday apparently to learn if there was any truth to a rumor that head football coach Joe Cochran was resigning.

When queried by school board president Edward Cilli, the delegation said "they were just here to listen."

FOLLOWING the regular business meeting, however, the group, consisting of parents, other football fans, and even a few players, admitted that they had heard a rumor that Cochran had quit and said that they had come to the meeting to appear on his behalf.

Members of the board admitted that they too had heard rumors, but said that as far as they were concerned a rumor was all that it was. They said they had heard nothing from Cochran or anyone else to make them believe otherwise.

Cilli and athletic chairman, John Uccellini, gave Cochran a vote of confidence on behalf of the board. Uccellini told the delegation that the board had interviewed more than 50 applicants to obtain the "right man for the post of head football coach, and that man was Cochran."

Giardello To Defend Title In Dec. 14 Bout

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Middleweight boxing champion Joey Giardello will defend his title against Ruben (Hurricane) Carter Dec. 14 in Convention Hall — with or without television — says Giardello's attorney, Michael Del Collo.

The postponed bout was to have taken place in Las Vegas on Oct. 23, but Giardello walked out when promoters couldn't come up with a $55,000 guarantee for him. Carter was to have received $12,500.

The official announcement and signing of new contracts will take place Thursday in Philadelphia, Del Collo said.

Fan Goes Week Early To Wrestling Matches

NEW YORK (AP) — A guy walked into the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden Monday night, looked around with a puzzled expression on his face and went to his seat.

The seat was occupied so he took his complaint to the chief usher.

"Someone's in my seat," he growled. "Get him out. And by the way, what time does the wrestling start?"

He had a ticket for the wrestling matches next Monday night, Nov. 16.

Ohio State Must Perk Up Against Northwestern, Michigan Foes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — What has happened to that great Ohio State football team?

That's the big question being asked by Buckeye fandom after the Ohioans, winners of five straight and rated No. 1 in the nation, suddenly went into reverse, skidding to second and then seventh.

Regardless of the late trend, the Bucks own a 6-1 record, and are all alone at 4-0 in the race for the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl bid. But upcoming Northwestern and Michigan figure to be major roadblocks on the path to Pasadena unless the Bucks perk up more than a little bit.

No one worried too much when the Ohioans squeaked by Iowa 21-19, although everyone knew the Bucks got three big breaks for their scores. The first was Steve Dreyer's 35-yard pass interception score on the opening play. Then came Ed Orazen's fumble-recovery on the 15, leading to the second touchdown, and Tom Barrington's 69-yard kickoff return which set up the third.

But the Bucks were outgained 315 to 189 yards in that one, and for the first time in six games the Buckeye defense yielded a touchdown on rushing as the Hawkeyes scored twice on the ground.

The suffering became acute Saturday as the Bucks faded to a dim shadow of themselves in the 27-0 loss to Penn State. The Ohioans, once owners of the most feared ground assault in the country, gained 33 yards rushing. In the air they made but 30. They had the ball 13 times—and 10 times gave up the ball without making a first down.

Coach Woody Hayes has said often that about mid-season a team either gets a lot better or a lot worse, and at his press luncheon Monday he said: "We'll be better against Northwestern Saturday. Last Saturday we were soundly beaten by a better team, but what caused us to be beaten that badly we just don't know. Northwestern winds up its season against us and will go into the game with nothing to lose. Maybe they'd better regard us the same way."

Woody also mused: "Maybe we're not as good as we've been led to believe."

One thing is certain — the Bucks looked like different teams in the first five games and the last two.

Tulane's Athletics Show Huge Loss

By KELSO STURGEON Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Tulane, which put its Southeastern Conference status in doubt by scheduling only three SEC games in 1966, has lost more than $1.2 million on its athletic program during the past two years.

The decision to cut back on the SEC schedule and possibly lay the ground work for getting out of the conference came several months ago when school officials decided they could not afford to subsidize the program to the tune of $600,000 a year.

The $1.2-million figure—which officials at the university in New Orleans would neither confirm nor deny—came from two persons close to the school and also from two members of the athletic staffs of two other SEC institutions.

Dr. Rix N. Yard, athletic director of Tulane, said in a telephone interview that it was obvious to the educated eye that the losses at Tulane the past two seasons have been heavy. But he declined to put any figure on them.

"A look at the Tulane catalog is enough to let you see how hard it is for us to compete in the SEC financially," Yard said.

Falcons Eye Unbeaten Campaign, Bowl Offer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bowling Green might be looking past streaking Marshall to its Nov. 14 engagement with Ohio and could get knocked flat.

So what happened? The Falcons cruised to an easy 28-0 conquest of the Big Green, game winning kick while Ohio suffered a 13-8 shocker at the hands of Western Michigan.

It marked the fourth time in six years the surging Bees-Gees had taken the coveted Mid-Am title.

What little action remains in the league appears to be a battle for second place. Ohio (2-1) must whip B G (5-0) if it wants runner-up honors.

A Bobcat loss would give second place to Miami (4-2) which wound up conference play by creaming Toledo 35-14.

The word all week was that

Ohio Boy Wins Cy Young Award

Chance Gives Coach Credit After Gaining Mound Honor

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — "I have to give pitching coach Marv Grissom a lot of the credit," says Dean Chance, the Los Angeles Angels' right-hander who was named the Cy Young Award winner as the best major league pitcher of 1964.

A special committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America gave Chance 17 of the 20 votes cast, making him the third successive Los Angeles hurler to be selected.

He succeeds Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers, who received one vote although he was injured part of the season. The Dodgers' Don Drysdale won in 1962.

Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs, whose 24-11 record made him the majors' winningest pitcher, was named on the other two ballots, the committee announced Monday.

"I'm really happy about the honor," the 23-year-old off-season farmer said. "I thought I had a pretty good shot at it after the season when the statistics came out."

"I've been with Grissom since 1961," said Chance, who posted a 20-9 record and a 1.65 ERA. "He gave me confidence and taught me different little things like following through and smoothing out my motion."

"Of course, this year, I had three years of experience, and I used it all to the best of my ability. I learned how to pitch."

Chance used his blazing fast ball and slider to rack up the most shutouts in the majors — 11. A record-tying five of them were 1-0 decisions. The last pitcher to achieve this mark was Carl Hubbell in 1933.

Chance also had the most complete games in the American League with 15. His 208 strikeouts put him a close third in the AL behind Al Downing of the Yankees and Camilo Pascual of Minnesota.

Asked if winning the award might have a beneficial effect on his salary next year, Chance replied:

"I think this honor and the other awards I'm getting will give me a bigger status and make my presence worth more next season."

Chance started 35 games and finished seven of his 11 relief appearances. He worked 278 1/3 innings, walked only 86 and permitted only seven homers. Six of his nine defeats were by a single run.

Kelso, Gun Bow Favored In International Match

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — The name of the horse race is the Washington, D.C., International al. The site is Laurel's 1 1/2-mile grass course with post time set for 3:45 p.m., EST, Wednesday.

But you will have to search far and wide, be it among horsemen on Laurel's backstretch or politicians on Capitol Hill, for those who consider the 13th running of the International anything more than a match race between the two American entries.

Six horses from Russia, France, Ireland, Venezuela, Japan and Italy will be in the starting line-up. But Kelso, world's leading money winner and America's four-time Horse of the Year, and Gun Bow remain the center of discussion as trainers put the finishing touches on their finely tuned charges. Kelso, winner of $1,803,362 for Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Bohemia Stable, and Gun Bow, a 4-year-old speedster from the Gedney Farm, have met four times this year and broken even.

Their last two meetings were memorable ones. In the Aqueduct on Labor Day, Kelso won by three-quarters of a length for his first stakes triumph of an otherwise disappointing campaign. A month later Gun Bow, victorious in eight stakes this season, won by the thinnest of noses.

In addition to the prestige, the distribution of $150,000 will be at stake. First place will be worth $90,000, second $25,000, third $15,000, fourth $10,000, and fifth and sixth $5,000 each. The weather man promises perfect racing conditions, except that the course probably will be very hard from lack of rain. The grass has been dyed to retain its original color.

Searching deep in International village, where the foreign horses are quartered, some support was uncovered for the Italian representative, Veronese, and the Russian entry, Anilin, who is unbeaten this year.

From a physical viewpoint, Veronese is a picture horse. The track handicapper made him the 6-1 third choice behind Kelso at 7-5, with Gun Bow at 8-5.

LESTER HALL of 235 Thompson Ave., is shown with his trophy presented after he won the Class AA club golf championship at the East Palestine Country Club. He defeated Bob Welsh of Negley in the finals, three and two. His previous trophies include the president's cup won in 1953 and 1958.

Suggestions Are Offered For Improving Vee-Bunk

By JOHN BOHANNAN

Just about every cruising boat — whether it be inboard, outboard, outdrive or sail — has a pair of vee-bunks wedged into the forward part of the hull. The reason is obvious. They make the best use of the space, which is too far from the cockpit for galley, dinette or head.

Vee-bunks, while offering top efficiency in boosting accommodations, have a drawback. Although the space between them usually is kept to a minimum, there isn't much room on the bunks to stretch or roll over without falling out.

The bunk is wider aft, so that's where shoulders fit best, while your feet are tucked forward against the rope locker bulkhead. Facing inboard, it isn't too bad, but sleeping on one side becomes monotonous.

ROLL OVER and you find yourself staring at the ceiling strips, just inches away. This gives the sensation of trying to snooze on a ledge in a vertical cliff.

A good way to provide maneuvering room is vee-bunks is to have a wedge-shaped cushion made to fill the center space between the bunk cushions.

Rip-saw a pair of white oak rails of sufficient width to offer a secure bearing surface and fasten them along the inboard side of each bunk, with supporting brackets. Saw out a wedge of marine plywood to rest on the rails and span the area between them.

If the space is narrow, the plywood probably will have sufficient strength in itself; otherwise, narrow oak framing can be attached to the bottom of the plywood to stiffen it, keeping the frame pulled in enough to clear the supporting rails. During the day, the plywood wedge and its matching cushion can be used as a comfortable back rest on one of the bunks.

When put in place between the bunks, the forecastle is converted to a luxurious loafing and snoozing spot, with plenty of room to stretch.

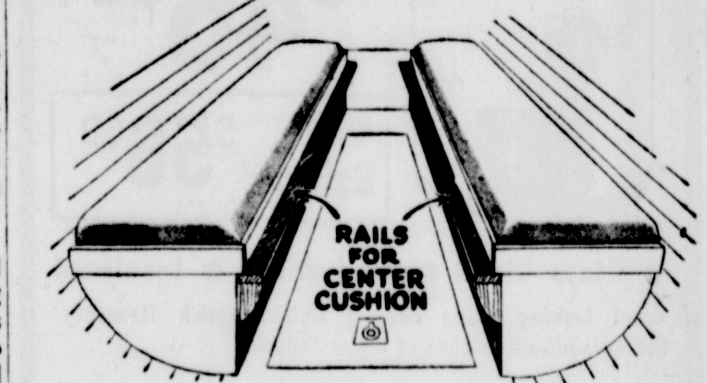

IF ONE person wants to take over the entire area, he can enjoy sleeping with his head to the bow, just under the forward hatch, where he can watch the with the water line. This gives a lot of stowage space and keeps objects high and dry well above the bilge.

Always remember to leave openings for ventilation on wood boats. Fresh air must circulate everywhere to preserve the hull.

Questions And Answers
Q—I have been told it's not necessary to bore holes in the ceiling because it is already spaced away from the hull planking by the frames, with openings top and bottom. Do you agree?

A—I would feel safer with the holes bored. Too much ventilation is a lot better than too little.

NARROW VEE-BUNKS can be filled in with a center cushion to provide a wide, comfortable sleeping and lounging area. Oak rails are mounted, as shown, to support a wedge-shaped piece of marine plywood cut to fit the space. An extra bunk cushion is made to fit over the plywood. If the space between bunks is wide, a reinforcing frame can be attached to the bottom side of the plywood.

stars as the boat moves at anchor, and enjoy the invigorating night breeze.

Some boat manufacturers will provide center cushions for vee-bunks on special order, but almost anyone can make the conversion with the help of simple tools and an upholsterer.

Oh, yes, and all of that space under the bunks is useful, too, if flooring is installed parallel

Liston Pronounced A-OK For Title Bout With Clay

BOSTON (AP) — Sonny Liston's left shoulder is A-OK for his heavyweight title rematch with Cassius Clay on Nov. 16 but the champion already has proclaimed himself the winner and is looking for the rabbit-former champion Floyd Patterson.

Both Clay and Liston were pronounced in perfect condition by Dr. Nathan Shapiro, Massachusetts Boxing Commission physician, at a preliminary medical check Monday.

Minutes earlier, Clay staged one of his side shows, snarling traffic on Commonwealth Avenue and drawing the attention he sought in a mock hunt for the Big Bear, his name for Liston.

Chief concern of Dr. Shapiro's examination was the left shoulder which was injured and caused Liston to lose his title to Clay after six rounds in Miami last February.

"I can find no restriction of motion," Dr. Shapiro said. "The biceps and entire muscular system has been rebuilt completely since the injury."

Liston, a 9-to-5 favorite in the Las Vegas line, said "I would say I'd win in less than 15 rounds. I'm in better shape than I've ever been in my life. Beyond that I leave the talking up to Clay."

Clay, who did not confront Liston face-to-face but did run alongside his car as the latter arrived and left, again predicted he would win in nine rounds, "maybe before that." He raised nine fingers for cameramen and hailed it as "another great prediction."

Criminal Neglect Hinted In Probe Of 725 Ballots

CLEVELAND (AP) — An investigation into missing ballots for a liquor option in an East Side ward indicates criminal neglect on the part of Election Board officials and employees, Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan said Monday.

Corrigan is expected to present evidence to the grand jury this week to show that some 725 ballots on the option in Precincts L and M were never printed.

State law provides fines or jail terms for persons concerned with the printing or custody of ballots which are not delivered.

Election Board clerk Ray K. Miller said, "I don't want to disagree with the prosecutor's findings, but I'll talk to the printer first."

Assistant county prosecutor Charles R. Laurie said statements from employees of the Judson-Brooks Co., which printed the ballots for the election last Tuesday clearly indicate the ballots in question never were printed.

Junior Editors Quiz on PRAYING MANTIS

QUESTION: Why does a praying mantis hold his arms up that way?

ANSWER: The praying mantis is certainly one of the strangest of the world's creatures. In the picture, Jerry is doing a good job of imitating the queer way he holds his body and arms. These arms are certainly not held up that way with any intention of praying; the mantis is a savage little creature which likes to catch and eat other insects. These arms are for the purpose of holding the prey in a vise-like grip so the mantis may kill and eat it. Not only do the arms end in a pair of hooks, but there is a row of sharp spikes under the forelegs which help in preventing the prey from breaking loose. The mantis is really very useful to man, as it destroys many insects harmful to us, such as flies, grasshoppers, and caterpillars. These insects belong to a group called "mantids." There are native mantids, but the praying mantis was introduced from Europe because it eats so many harmful insects and it has spread widely in this country. Because it is so thin, you might mistake it for the walking stick (lower right). But these last insects have no wings and have six legs about the same in shape.

FOR YOU TO DO: You can often find the egg cases of the praying mantis in winter—they look like a ball of gray paper around a stick. Keep an eye peeled for one and take it inside. The eggs may hatch, and then you'll have something to look at!

Dotty B. Rice of Coatesville, Pa., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Today In History Beneath The Sea

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 10, the 315th day of 1964. There are 51 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1871, an expedition led by H. M. Stanley and financed by the New York Herald, found missing British explorer David Livingstone in Central Africa.

On this date In 1483, Martin Luther, the leader of the Protestant Reformation, was born.

In 1775, the U.S. Marine Corps was established by the Continental Congress.

In 1917, Nikolai Lenin was made premier of Russia.

In 1940, Royal Air Force bombers attacked the city of Danzig for the first time.

In 1944, Prime Minister Winston Churchill disclosed that a new weapon—the V2 rocket — was being used against England by the Nazis.

Ten years ago—A statue honoring the Marine Corps—showing the flag raising on Iwo Jima in World War II — was dedicated at Arlington, Va.

Amsterdammers, like fish, spend most of their lives under the sea.

But thanks to an ingenious system of dikes, locks, sluices, canals and pumps, the 900,000 residents of the Dutch capital and trade center remain safe and dry although the metropolis is some 12 feet below sea level.

The Netherlands' largest city is built entirely on wooden piles driven deep in the wet sand, the National Geographic Society says. Rotted foundations cause some old towers and houses to tilt at crazy angles. On the other hand, several poles sunk before Henry Hudson sailed for the New World in 1609 stand as good as new.

To provide solid support for large new office buildings, Dutch engineers sink hundreds of concrete columns. One electric power plant required 5,600 piles. Some were sunk more than 80 feet to bedrock.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Cooks: Thanksgiving is coming soon, and we all love our good ol' turkey dressing along with all the trimmings... and one reason most of us fail to make the good old-fashioned kind is that it takes so long and is always eaten in one or two days.

So we think, "Why should I work so hard for a meal or two?"

Well, let me tell you how to capitalize on this sort of cook-time.

Make LOTS of dressing! Double your recipe (I triple mine) and make it good while you are at it.

Not only will it taste better, but eeks!... think of the energy you will save next time you wish you had some dressing and don't have the time or inclination, or all the ingredients in the house to make it.

I USE the old-fashioned recipe of homemade cornbread, homemade biscuits, etc., so I know what you go through, but I sure don't waste any energy because, after making up a whole batch, I use it many ways.

I set aside as much as I think I will need for the Thanksgiving meal and cook this when I get ready to bake my turkey.

The portion that is left I utilize in two different ways AFTER I cook it. If you make your dressing a day ahead of time, cook the remaining dressing THEN, because you will not have room in your oven the day you bake your turkey. Let this cool.

FIGURE OUT how much it takes for your family for one meal. Put this in a pie tin that has been lined with foil and press the dressing flat. When dressing is flat, it not only freezes faster but thaws more quickly! I sometimes cover this with some gravy before freezing it. Makes it moist and yummy. Cover with foil and freeze.

Next time you buy a small turkey or roasting hen, your dressing is ready! It is also lush when reheated and served with pork chops and gravy. Just thaw and reheat.

Now for the second way... and you are going to get the surprise of your life when you try this!

Moisten the remainder of the cooked dressing with a little water, leftover broth or cold gravy and mold it into little portions about the size and shape of medium-sized baking potatoes.

WRAP THESE in pieces of foil (just as you would for baking potatoes) and put them in your freezer. These may be served with anything in place of a baked potato.

Now... the greatest thing about these little foil-covered dressing balls, is that you can use as many or as few of them as you need when the occasion arises! And with no waste at all. Besides, they take up very little space in your freezer, because they can be tucked into all those little wasted spaces.

WITHOUT THAWING I re-bake them in the oven (350) for 40 minutes or so (according to the size), to heat them clear through. Sometimes I thaw them before reheating; it's faster because they don't have to bake so long, but they are not as crisp on the outside.

I cut a big "X" in these dressing balls, through foil and all, just as one does a baked potato, and top it with a pat of butter or some gravy. Yum, yum. The part next to the foil is real crispy, and the inside is nice and moist. Looks lovely on your dinner plate, too.

So, don't hesitate to make lots of good dressing when you bake your turkey this year. It's surely nice to just open the freezer and pick up those packages of dressing a few weeks later.

Oh... I'm hungry.

HELOISE.

P.S.: And here's another little hint for warm leftover dressing from that dinner table:

While it's still warm... stuff it in a big jelly glass and mash it down hard. Put in refig. In the next few days remove this with a knife. It will slide out beautifully.

Cut this in portions about an inch thick. These patties may either be laid on a piece of foil and rebaked, or dipped in flour and FRIED for breakfast! Fabulous.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I just made a nice, large jewelry box from an old silverware chest that I no longer needed. I painted the chest with gold paint, decorated it with imitation rhinestones, etc., and it is perfect to hold costume jewelry.

MRS. R. G. BRIGHT.

DEAR HELOISE: Cutting a peeled, hard-boiled egg with a knife often results in one end of the egg being rather ragged looking.

May I suggest using a cheese cutter instead of a knife for this little task? The cutter slices the egg perfectly every time.

HELEN HENDERSON.

Absolutely great!

HELOISE.

Midland Power Rate Cut Slated

The Duquesne Light Co. of Pittsburgh, which serves Midland and much of Western Pennsylvania, said it will reduce residential electric rates by over $1 million a year, starting with bills mailed after next Monday.

For the average customer this will mean a saving of $4.25 a year.

Permission for the rate cut has been granted by the Public Utility Commission.

It will affect about 242,000 of the company's 431,264 residential customers.

A rate cut was made possible, because of a recent reduction in federal income taxes and technological progress in generation and transmission of electricity.

Union Asks Renewal For City Income Tax

A city employees' union voted Monday night to send a letter to Council urging the members to continue the city income tax beyond its expiration date Dec. 31.

The action was taken when Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, met in the conference room at The Review.

Mrs. Leah Kelly and Mrs. Catherine Martin reported the annual Christmas party is scheduled Dec. 19 at Meade's Restaurant in Wellsville. The union received a reply from a letter which it sent to Gov. James A. Rhodes asking wage raises for employees of state mental institutions.

Kenneth McCarty, president, presided. The next meeting will be Nov. 23 at the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Group Meets At Salineville

Mrs. Paul Jakubowski entertained her 500 club Friday night at her home on E. Main St., Salineville.

Two tables were in play with trophies going to Mrs. Janice Allmon, Mrs. Margaret Thompson and Mrs. Gladys Clark.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Nancy.

Mrs. Patty Gearin will be hostess at the Dec. 3 meeting.

The Rebecca Circle of the Calvary United Presbyterian Church was entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Verla Detchon.

Mrs. Lou Madiscen led the devotions on the topic, "Praise God for Many Great Blessings." Each member responded with a Bible verse.

Mrs. Wilda Allmon read an article from Presbyterian Life magazine on "Keeping In Shape."

Mrs. Martha Boyd had the lesson on "Why America Is Great." Mrs. Martha Burgett, circle chairman, dedicated the fellowship of the "Least Coin."

Association officers will be installed at a combined meeting of the Rebecca and Ruth Rachel circles at a meeting next month. The date will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Gossman of Jefferson St. returned Saturday from a visit in Annawan, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Leatherberry and daughter of New London, Conn., are spending a 30-day leave with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thomas. Leatherberry will report to the Bremerton (Wash.) Naval Base.

4 Men Will Take Wellsville Exam

Four men are slated to take a Wellsville Civil Service Commission examination tonight at 7 at City Hall to establish an eligibility list for city patrolman.

There is a vacancy on the force. Donald A. Lowe, commission clerk, said the examination will be presented in the Council Chambers.

The papers will be held for five days and then graded.

Members of the commission include E. M. Welch, chairman, D. E. Miller and R. N. Lloyd.

This will be the second examination this year for the position of patrolman. At present there are two on the list, but Mayor William Daugherty has asked that three names be submitted.

30 Children Injured In Bus Mishap

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP) — "Tell daddy to get out here quick," said the excited young voice of Donna Muller, 17, into the telephone.

"There are kids cut and bleeding all over the place."

Dr. C. D. Muller thus was one of the first to reach the hillside near the city's edge where a school bus rolled over Monday afternoon, injuring about 30 of the 67 high school students it was returning to their homes.

None was hurt critically and school Supt. Bud Winderl said he believed not more than 15 were hospitalized. Most seriously hurt were three with broken arms or shoulders, suffered when they were tossed about as the bus rolled 71 feet down an embankment.

In the group was Jan Westera, about 17, an exchange student from the Netherlands, who suffered a cut over one eye.

The state patrol said driver James H. Cobb told officers he pulled to the shoulder of the road as a city bus approached. The wheels of the school bus slipped into a drainage ditch, and Cobb said he was unable to maneuver the vehicle back on the road.

Cobb said the bus rolled once, then half over again. Dr. Muller said his daughters, Donna and Pam, 15, thought it was three times.

"They said they were all over the place," he reported, "first on the side and then on the roof and then on the floor."

"They were pretty calm," said Winderl. "It's amazing how kids that age can measure up. They were helping each other out of the overturned bus and showed no signs of panic."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 9-year-old girl with a big problem. My father bought a brand new car two weeks ago. It is shiny and beautiful. My father said it is up to all members of the family to keep the car looking nice and new.

The first law my father made was that nobody is supposed to eat in the new car. A neighbor boy I like very much rides to his music lesson with me every Thursday. My mother picks me up right after school.

Last Thursday Ed got into our new car, eating a baloney sandwich left over from his lunch. My mother told him to finish the sandwich before he got into the car. Ed said "okay" but I could see he was very embarrassed.

I told my mother later I didn't think she should boss other people's children. She said to write to you for your advice. So I'm writing. Please answer.—MONICA.

Dear Monica: Your mother is not "bossing other people's children." She simply told Ed he could not eat in the car, which is her privilege.

Poor Arithmetic

Dear Ann: You'd better check your arithmetic with reference to a recent column about the fellow who loaned his brother $2,000 two years ago and his having trouble collecting.

You said, "If his brother had paid him $25 a month the debt would have been half repaid by this time."

According to my calculations, $25 a month over a period of two years is $600—and that's a far cry from one half of $2,000. I would love to borrow money from you, Ann, on the basis of that kind of figuring. How about it?

I enjoy your column very much. Keep up the good work. But get yourself a calculating machine.—DAVID.

Dear David: I can offer no explanation for the error except the obvious one. Stupidity.

Ten lashes with the cord of an adding machine for Granny Annie. I'm utterly ashamed of myself (and the character who is supposed to check my arithmetic).

Anonymous Letter

Dear Ann: You missed the boat in your answer to "Toe Tapper," the woman who complained because one of her relatives is constantly asking her to "hold the phone" while she lets the dog out, answers the door, turns down the flame under the soup, and so on.

Doesn't "Toe Tapper" realize the world doesn't stop revolving when the phone rings? Kids don't suddenly become angels. The dog doesn't know he is supposed to wait until his master gets off the phone. The person at the door doesn't know whether you are on the phone or not.

Maybe the woman who is irritated because she is kept hanging on the line should take the hint and get off. She is the rude one, in my book.

That particular column was sent to me in a plain envelope with no signature and I think I know who sent it. Next time the witch calls I plan to cut her short and tell her I have more important things to do—

Athlete Who Flew Crated Up Must Pay $970 Freight Fee

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Reginald Spiers, the 22-year-old athlete who flew 12,000 miles hidden in a wooden crate because he couldn't pay $640 for a ticket, must pay $970 freight charges, Air India said today.

"He knows what he has to pay, it's set out in the consentment," said George Talati, Perth manager of the Indian line. "We don't intend to invoice him for it."

Spiers said Monday he would pay up but it would have to be in installments. Talati said the company wants a lump sum.

The manager said international air transport regulations prevent the line from waiving the freight charge.

Spiers, a javelin thrower who failed to make Australia's Olympic team, went to London to try for the English team and failed again. Broke and homesick, he got a friend to crate him up and ship him c.o.d. to a nonexistent firm in Perth. Spiers spent nearly three days cooped up in the crate without food or water.
